Byrnes Proposes Peace Conference For Reich Nov. 12

Three Colleagues Request Time to Study Plan; Molotov Agreement Is Predicted

Paris, May 15 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes proposed to the Foreign Ministers Council today that a peace conference be called November 12 to draft a peace treaty for Germany, an American informant said.

In a session completely taken up with discussion of critical German problems, Byrnes proposed that representatives of Britain, Russia, France and the United States start meeting immediately to draw up a treaty draft for Germany which the foreign ministers could present to the peace conference, the informant said.

If the date of November 12 is adopted, the peace conference would convene on the 25th anniversary of the opening session of the 1921 Washington disarmament conference and 28 years and a day after the 1918 armistice.

Byrnes was reported to have proposed that the foreign ministers' representatives first report on the economic status of Germany to the Foreign Ministers Council at their next meeting, possibly June 15.

Byrnes' three colleagues, the foreign ministers of Russia, France and Britain, said they wanted to study the proposal before committing themselves.

The three-hour meeting today began with Georges Bidault, French Foreign Minister, presenting France's demand for complete separation of the Ruhr and Rhineland from Germany and for French control of the Saar.

Referring to the number of times France has had to fight Germany, Bidault said economic measures to control these territories were not enough, that there must be political separation.

Won't Agree on Austria
Sources close to the Russian delegation predicted today that Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov would agree to a U. S. proposal to summon a 21-nation peace conference in July following another four-power conference next month.

These sources expressed belief that while Molotov would accede to three of the four suggestions made last night by U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, he definitely would not agree to place the Austrian treaty on the agenda for a suggested Big Four foreign ministers session June 15.

It appeared, meanwhile, that the current conference might wind up its work tomorrow without basic agreement on peace treaties. "The Sacred Cow," President Truman's personal plane, already was reported on its way to Paris to return Byrnes and the U. S. delegation to Washington.

The conferees were ready to

Owners Say Union President's Bid Is National Problem Representing New Social Theory, Philosophy

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Soft coal operators today informed John L. Lewis they reject "unequivocally" his demand for a seven per cent payroll levy to finance a miners' welfare fund.

The operators' negotiating committee said in replying to the United Mine Workers that Lewis' proposal presented "a new social theory and philosophy, the effect of which would extend to every industry in America, and as such must be considered and acted upon as a national problem and not as one relating to the coal industry alone."

The committee said the problem was one to be considered by public legislative bodies.

The operators gave three major reasons for rejecting Lewis' demand for the levy to be paid by operators who estimated it would net the union $70,000,000 annually on the basis of last year's payroll.

The committee would not exercise such authority and make a commitment of this character for the industry, and further, this matter does not go to the question of wages, hours or working conditions.

That the plan constitutes double taxation on the industry for social welfare, for which it is now paying approximately 10 cents per ton, which in 1944 amounted to more than $61,000,000. This amount was contributed solely by the operators.

That is a matter of public concern and is therefore a problem that should be considered not by this wage conference but by public legislative bodies and then only after a complete and thorough investigation by such legislative bodies of all the problems involved.

Operators Point Out Plan
The operators reminded Lewis that on March 25 they had proposed joint investigation and consideration of a plan to create by joint contributions a "reasonable fund" to be used in unusual hardship cases. The fund, they suggested, should be administered by some independent agency such as

The flour situation shaped up this way: May 1 mills were required to cut their stocks to a 21-day supply. Few if any have been able to obtain wheat in the meantime because the government is offering farmers a bonus of 30 cents a bushel above the ceiling price—which is the top legitimate price millers may offer. And the 1946 wheat will not start moving to market until July.

Some mills already have shut down and a survey last night indicated many others either will close or curtail operations sharply.

This prospect posed two problems for the government:

Will flour stocks on hand be sufficient to supply consumers until the new wheat crop becomes available?

Should the government divert some of the famine-relief wheat it is buying to American mills in order to keep them operating until the new harvest.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson is known to be studying these problems. Chester C. Davis, chief of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, said that the Federal Reserve's Emergency Committee, which has been authorized to lend supplies of flour now in distribution channels will be sufficient to meet domestic needs on the basis of consumption recommendations of its committee until new wheat becomes available.

The committee's consumption standard calls, however, for voluntary use of 40 per cent less wheat products than before the current

Education Board Re-elects Feeney; Park Action Taken

Bernard A. Feeney was re-elected president of the Kingston Board of Education at the annual meeting held Tuesday afternoon.

Charles Katz was again elected vice-president and under the rules of the Board Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw is clerk of the Board.

Judge Andrew J. Cook acted as temporary chairman of the meeting and after election Mr. Feeney took over the chair and continued the meeting which adjourned after the conclusion of the routine business of the annual session.

At a special meeting which was called immediately following the annual meeting, Judge Cook offered a resolution for the Sites Committee amending action taken at the last regular meeting relative to the purchase of Loughran Park as a site for a new school building.

Mr. Cook for the committee offered a resolution, which was unanimously accepted, that the site be purchased for the sum of $31,000, a figure agreeable to James F. Loughran, owner, and that one half of that purchase price be paid from funds now on hand and before the end of June when the school fiscal year ends.

The balance of the purchase price is to be paid in two equal installments but a provision was also made to pay the balance of the purchase price in one year if desired. Interest will not exceed two per cent per year.

At the time the Board voted to buy the site about two weeks ago

B-29 Sets Record Climbing Test Made

Tokyo, May 15 (AP)—A B-29 piloted by Col. E. D. Reynolds, Beaumont, Tex., set a new world load-to-altitude record Monday at Guam when it carried a payload of 2,000 kilograms (4,400 pounds) to an altitude of 44,200 feet.

The announcement was made today by headquarters of the Pacific Air Command of the U. S. Army (Pacusa).

It was the fourth load-altitude record established this month by B-29's of Pacusa.

The previous record in the 2,000-kilogram load category was established in September 1936, by Vladimir Kokkinski of Russia at 36,105 feet.

'No Progress' Is Listed Following Capital Rail Talk

Negotiations Take Recess; Officials Are Waiting More Positive Outcome

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Railroad operator and union negotiators, working to avert a rail strike called for Saturday, recessed after a brief "no progress" session today and called another meeting for later in the day.

The talks were resumed last night at the request of President Truman. Unions represented are the trainmen, engineers, switchmen, conductors and firemen.

All five brotherhoods are seeking a wage increase of $2.50 a day against $1.28 granted by arbitration and fact-finding boards, but only the trainmen and engineers have set a strike. Working rules also are involved.

A. F. Whitney, president of the trainmen, told reporters the carriers were not ready this morning to submit any proposals and added:

"I can't report a thing."

Management representatives stressed the talks were only "recessed" and not suspended.

President Truman's personal intervention, followed by resumption of negotiations at his request and reports of "some progress," did much to bolster the guarded optimism, but officials still waited anxiously for more positive bargaining sessions.

Fingers Are Crossed
Pending hoped-for favorable news, administration fingers were kept tightly crossed. For there was frank apprehension over the effects of any nationwide strike by 250,000 engineers and trainmen. With the country still hard hit by the soft coal stoppage, the impact of a general rail tie-up could be incalculable damage.

Mr. Truman sent representatives of the unions and railroads back to their negotiating after a series of White House conferences yesterday. The disputants met until nearly midnight last night, reported some progress, and scheduled another session for today. The White House has asked them to report back on Friday.

In getting negotiations resumed, Mr. Truman held three separate conferences. First he saw A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

These two were followed by representatives of the switchmen, firemen and conductors unions. Finally came President J. J. Pelly and other officials of the Association of American Railroads.

Prior to the conferences, Martin Miller, legislative representative of the "Big Five" railroad brotherhoods, said that presidential intervention was the only possibility of averting a rail strike Saturday over issues of pay and other conditions.

"Government seizure of the railroads won't stop us," he asserted. "The only thing left that might prevent it is an order from President Truman telling the railroads and the brotherhoods to get together and settle their wage troubles and their dispute over rules. That might bring results."

The White House conferees had no comment as to what was discussed in their talks with Mr. Truman. Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross announced the result of the conferences in this terse fashion:

"All agreed to carry on negotiations concurrently and all will report back Friday with a progress report."

Republicans Ask Why Second Issue Needed When $150,000 Bond Issued in '45

Report Is Read

Hallinan Says Added Construction Costs Are Responsible

The Common Council Tuesday evening authorized the raising of $48,500 to complete the construction of the sewage treatment plant on the Strand, and the Roosevelt Park outfall sewer, by the issuance of a capital note for $2,500 to make a down payment, and the floating of a $46,000 bond issue.

Last year the council authorized a $150,000 bond issue for the completion of the projects.

The action taken followed a lively debate between the Republican and Democratic members of the council. The Republicans contending that further information should be given the aldermen before acting on the request of Mayor W. F. Edmuth for the bond issue.

Alderman Paul Zucca's resolution that the council recess until next Tuesday evening so that the council could be informed as to the reasons the $150,000 bond issue previously authorized, was not sufficient to complete the projects, and in order that the council answer any other questions pertaining to the two projects that the council might ask, was defeated by a party vote of 7 to 5.

Cites Added Costs
City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan's report to the Board of Public Works that the additional sum was needed in order to complete the work was read. The city engineer pointed out that the extra money was needed, owing to the increase in construction costs since 1944 and 1945.

In discussing the proposed ordinance, which later was unanimously approved and adopted, Alderman Joseph Bruck said that the majority members of the council should not expect immediate action whenever a bond issue is dumped in our laps without giving us time to give the matter full consideration."

At the time the aldermen authorized the $150,000 bond issue last year, Alderman Zucca pointed out, the aldermen were informed that amount was needed to complete the two projects. This information, he said was furnished by the mayor and the consulting engineer.

"There is no question but that the projects have been completed," said Zucca, "but I believe we should have full information on all bond issues. Up to several years ago it was customary for the mayor to call in the aldermen and discuss the matter when the floating of a bond issue was contemplated."

"We appear to be drifting further and further apart," said Alderman Zucca, "but if there was closer cooperation between the two parties in the council we would be able to carry on the city's business more harmoniously."

Alderman Herman Roosa also spoke briefly, and expressed the opinion that the aldermen should have full information before being called upon to authorize any bond issue.

Replies To Republicans
"While waiting for the council to pass a needed bond issue," said Alderman Thomas Coughlin in reply to the Republican aldermen, "you will remember that it was necessary to shut down work on both projects until the bond issue was authorized. At that time it cost an additional $5,000 in order to resume work on the projects."

Alderman Coughlin said that the only reason why the bond issue had not been brought up at the regular council session earlier in the month, was due to the fact that there was an error in the resolution drafted by a bond house, and the resolution had to be re-drafted.

"Every member of the council knew that a special meeting was to be called to pass this bond issue," contended Alderman Coughlin, "and if you delay action on the ordinance work will be stopped on both projects."

Alderman Frank Oulton expressed the same opinion, as did Alderman Peter Simpson of the Sixth Ward.

The Democratic aldermen said that "there is nothing goes on in this council but the Republicans know about it, no matter how secret it is supposed to be kept."

The debate closed with the aldermen unanimously adopting the bond ordinance.

Of the amount authorized raised, $40,000 is to be used on completing the sewage treatment, and $8,200 on the Roosevelt Park sewer.

Snyder Says Bill Does Not Affect Airport for Ulster

Says Planning Committee Is Still Committed to Suitable Port for County.

Harry Snyder, chairman of the aviation branch of the Ulster County Post War Planning Committee of the Board of Supervisors, on Tuesday afternoon stated that the signing of the federal appropriation bill by President Truman making $500,000,000 in Federal funds available for construction of airports, had not changed the status of the plan for an airport in Ulster county.

The Aviation Branch of the county Post War Planning Committee is still committed to an airport suitable for the needs of Ulster county," Mr. Snyder said.

He indicated that now the federal government had made definite its plans, it would be possible now for the state to move ahead with some definite plan and once the state's position was known definitely then Ulster county could shape its course.

All our plans up to this time have been dependent upon action by the Federal government in making available funds," Mr. Snyder said. "Now the government's position is known and funds have been made available for the financing of half the cost of airports, we can look forward to some action by the state legislature and once this is established, then the county will be in a position to act."

Expected State Help
Under the Federal law the government will finance, up to 50 per cent the cost of an airport and the "interested municipality" is to finance the balance. Mr. Snyder indicated that this action had

Trenton Street Gets New Name

Lateral Is Thoroughfare for Andrew, Brewster Sts.; Lane Surveyed

The name of Trenton street has been changed to Isabella Place, it was revealed at the monthly meeting of the Board of Public Works Tuesday afternoon, when City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan filed a plan and profile map of the street establishing the street lines and grade.

Isabella Place extends from Andrew street to Brewster street. The city engineer said that several new houses were planned to be erected on the street.

The city engineer recommended that in the interests of public safety, uniformity and proper drainage that the proposed street lines and grades be established as recommended.

The board unanimously adopted the plan and profile map submitted by the city engineer.

In the matter of the extension of Miller's Lane, the city engineer submitted a report, in which he pointed out that only a small strip had ever been deeded to the city.

The proposed extension would extend south from Dunningman avenue a distance of 302 feet, and the city engineer said that a survey of the proposed extension had been made, which developed that the city held no deed for the land, except the small strip mentioned.

He reported that on the northerly portion of the proposed extension

Hungary's Money Takes Nose Dive

One Note in Circulation Is Pegged at Billion Pengoes by Nation

Budapest, May 14 (Delayed AP)—A single bank note worth one billion pengoes went into general circulation today as Hungary's inflation wrecked currency plunged on in an apparently winning race to equal nothing.

Before the war, when five pengoes were equal to one United States dollar, this new billion-pengo note—significantly displaying cheaper engraving on cheaper paper than any previous currency—would have been worth $200,000,000.

Today, with the dollar bringing two billion five hundred million pengoes, it is worth less than 50 cents.

The average worker reportedly earns about a dollar a month. The average black market dinner costs about three. But the hardest thing to find in Budapest is a man who lives on his dollar a month earnings. Everyone mournfully admits that the dollar a month figure is correct, but no one seems able to point out any man who lives on it.

There are undoubtedly suffering people in Hungary but they are not to be seen in Budapest's crowded theatres and opera house, or dining lavishly at Gunde's, or the quietly and expensively in the colonial shadows or noisily at the Derby Club.

Nor are they standing in the lobby of the American Astoria Hotel, holding a sackful of cameras, binoculars and pistols.

The government still has announced anti-inflation action. Government circles once threatened to punish all those caught with foreign currency, but nothing ever came of it.

Most government sources now say the government does not intend to do anything about inflation until after the peace treaty has been negotiated. One Hungarian financier reiterated his prediction of two months ago that the dollar would be worth two hundred billion pengoes by June.

Calls Bill 'Bad'
Mr. Truman left no doubt that he was displeased with the way the draft extension was brought about. His press secretary, Charles G. Ross, used the "lesser of two evils" description in telling re-

Price Panel Orders $550 In Fees as Adjustments

Cash adjustments totalling $550 were assessed against O.P.A. price ceiling violators by the Price Control Panel of the Kingston Rationing Board at its weekly hearings yesterday in the municipal auditorium.

Reflecting the Panel's mounting pressure against infractions of price regulations, the hearing was one of the liveliest in recent weeks.

The Ellenville Modern Market made a $200 adjustment with the treasury of the United States for alleged overcharges in four items of merchandise. An O.P.A. inspection April 24 revealed that the Ellenville market was selling fruit cocktail at 43 cents a can, three cents over the ceiling; canned corn at 17 cents, a two-cent overcharge; canned peas 16 cents, a one-cent overcharge and two grades of snap beans with overcharges ranging from two to five cents.

Four price violations were noted at the Ellenville Reliable Market on April 24 and the operator, Maurice Winegar, was assessed

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Soft coal operators today informed John L. Lewis they reject "unequivocally" his demand for a seven per cent payroll levy to finance a miners' welfare fund.

Ferry Ceremony To Begin 11 A. M. At Local Terminal

The program of observance for the resumption of ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff will take place Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the Kingston terminal. Mayor W. F. Edelmuth will cut the tape and addresses will be delivered by Senator A. H. Wicks and Assemblyman John Wadlin.

Inspection of the Ferry George Clinton at the Kingston side will be from 1 to 2 o'clock.

The public is invited to attend the inaugural program and to inspect the ferry.

There also will be a program at the Rhinebeck terminal and a dinner for the joint committee and guests at Beekman Arms, Rhinebeck.

Leonard Supple, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Dutchess county, will cut the tape at the Rhinebeck side. Attorney Benson Frost of Rhinebeck will be toastmaster at the dinner.

The ferry schedule and the rates are available at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Fingers Are Crossed

Pending hoped-for favorable news, administration fingers were kept tightly crossed. For there was frank apprehension over the effects of any nationwide strike by 250,000 engineers and trainmen. With the country still hard hit by the soft coal stoppage, the impact of a general tie-up could be incalculable damage.

Mr. Truman sent representatives of the unions and railroads back to their negotiating after a series of White House conferences yesterday. The disputants met until nearly midnight last night, reported some progress, and scheduled another session for today. The White House has asked them to report back on Friday.

In getting negotiations resumed, Mr. Truman held three separate conferences. First he saw A. F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Alanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

These two were followed by representatives of the switchmen, firemen and conductors unions. Finally came President J. J. Peley and other officials of the Association of American Railroads.

Prior to the conferences, Martin Miller, legislative representative of the "Big Five" railroad brotherhoods, said that presidential intervention was the only possibility of averting a rail strike Saturday over issues of pay and other conditions.

"Government seizure of the railroads won't stop us," he asserted. "The only thing left that might prevent it is an order from President Truman telling the railroads and the brotherhoods to get together and settle their wage troubles and the dispute over rules. That might bring results."

The White House conferees had no comment as to what was discussed in their talks with Mr. Truman. Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross announced the result of the conferences in this terse fashion:

"All agreed to carry on negotiations concurrently and all will report back Friday with a progress report."

Republicans Ask Why Second Issue Needed When $150,000 Bond Issued in '45

Report Is Read

Hallinan Says Added Construction Costs Are Responsible

The Common Council Tuesday evening authorized the raising of $48,500 to complete the construction of the sewage treatment plant on the Strand, and the Roosevelt Park outfall sewer, by the issuance of a capital note for $2,500 to make a down payment, and the floating of a $46,000 bond issue.

Last year the council authorized a $150,000 bond issue for the completion of the projects.

The action taken followed a lively debate between the Republican and Democratic members of the council. The Republicans contended that further information should be given the aldermen before acting on the request of Mayor W. F. Edelmuth for the bond issue.

Alderman Paul Zucca's resolution that the council recess until next Tuesday evening so that the council could be informed as to the reasons the $150,000 bond issue previously authorized, was not sufficient to complete the projects, and in order that the city engineer answer any other questions pertaining to the two projects that the council might ask, was defeated by a party vote of 7 to 5.

Cites Added Costs

City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan's report to the Board of Public Works that the additional sum was needed in order to complete the work was read. The city engineer pointed out that the extra money was needed, owing to the increase in construction costs since 1944 and 1945.

In discussing the proposed ordinance, which later was unanimously approved and adopted, Alderman Joseph Bruck said that the majority members of the council should not expect immediate action whenever "a bond issue is dumped in our laps without giving us time to give the matter full consideration."

At the time the aldermen authorized the $150,000 bond issue last year, Alderman Zucca pointed out that aldermen were informed that amount was needed to complete the two projects. This information, he said was furnished by the mayor and the consulting engineer.

"There is no question but that the projects have to be completed," said Zucca. "but I believe we should have full information on all bond issues. Up to several years ago it was customary for the mayor to call in the aldermen and discuss the matter when the floating of a bond issue was contemplated."

"We appear to be drifting further and further apart," said Alderman Zucca, "but if there was closer cooperation between the two parties in the council we would be able to carry on the city's business more harmoniously."

Alderman Herman Roosa also spoke briefly, and expressed the opinion that the aldermen should have full information before being called upon to authorize any bond issue.

Replies To Republicans

"While waiting for the council to pass a needed bond issue," said Alderman Thomas Coughlin in reply to the Republican aldermen, "you are remembering that it was necessary to shut down work on both projects until the bond issue was authorized. At that time it cost an additional $5,000 in order to resume work on the projects."

Alderman Coughlin said that the only reason why the bond issue had not been brought up at the regular council session earlier in the month, was due to the fact that there was an error in the resolution drafted by a bond house, and the resolution had to be re-drafted.

"Every member of the council knew that a special meeting was to be called to pass this bond issue," contended Alderman Bulbitz of the Fourth ward, "and if you delay action on the ordinance work will be stopped on both projects."

Alderman Frank Oulton expressed the same opinion, as did Alderman Peter Simpson of the Sixth ward.

The Democratic aldermen said that "there is nothing goes on in this council but the Republicans know about it, no matter how secret it is supposed to be kept."

The debate closed with the aldermen unanimously adopting the bond ordinance.

Of the amount authorized, $40,300 is to be used on completing the sewage treatment, and $8,200 on the Roosevelt Park sewer.

Changes in State Law Recommended by Bar Association president, said late yesterday, after a study of the case of Bertram M. Campbell, who was falsely convicted of forgery in 1938 and served 40 months in Sing Sing prison.

New York, May 15 (AP)—Six changes in the New York state law recommended by the New York County Criminal Courts Bar Association as an effort to prevent convictions.

Campbell, who was cleared last year when Alexander D. L. Thiel confessed to the crime, was identified erroneously by witnesses during his trial.

Hoffman listed these proposed changes: Visual identification to be judicially supervised; an automatic mistrial to be declared where changes of counsel occur through no fault of the department; motions for a new trial be permissible at any time; appellate review be made available to indigent defendants.

The association also recommended that prosecutors be prevented from accepting the services of private detectives and counsel unless the entire case is turned over for private prosecution. Campbell was officially pardoned by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey who recommended the legislature authorize him to sue the state. Last week the State Court of Claims ruled that Campbell would receive $40,000 for loss of earnings and reduction in earning power. Decision was reserved on his $100,000 claim for humiliation.

Blumberg Points Out Claims Must Be Filed for Aid

There are more than 196,000 persons in New York State who are receiving monthly checks under the old-age and survivors insurance program, but there are some persons who fail to file their claims, or who neglect to claim their benefits at the right time. Jerome Blumberg, manager of the Kingston field office stated today, in offering the following advice:

"The first important fact to remember is that benefits do not come automatically to workers or workers to survivors of workers who have died," Mr. Blumberg explained. "They must be applied for at any field office of the Social Security Board," he said. "A worker should get in touch with the social security field office as soon as he reaches age 65. Due to uncertainty about jobs when a worker becomes older, disability, illness and many other unforeseen hazards, workers should consult the nearest social security office as soon as they reach 65, even though they do not intend to retire at that time." For example, Mr. Blumberg pointed out, "A woman 66 years old, who had never filed for monthly benefits, became ill and had to stop working. She thought it was only a brief illness, but her ill health was prolonged. She learned too late that she could have received her monthly insurance payments if she had filed her claim when she became 65, or when she first became ill. "Claims for monthly benefits for wives, widows, children and parents should be filed immediately after the insured worker's death." Monthly payments to survivors are retroactive, but for not more than three months prior to the month of filing. Thus, if a claim is not filed until the fourth month after the month of the insured person's death, one month's payment is lost.

Showing the importance of the worker's wage record, Mr. Blumberg stated that there was $15,969.79 being paid to workers in Ulster county. In addition, wives of retired workers are receiving $2,632.55 in monthly benefits, and survivors of workers who have died are receiving monthly checks totalling $6,777.11.

Another important thing to know about the worker's social security records is that a wage earner should check his account once a year by writing to the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Md., and asking for a statement of his account. Mr. Blumberg advised. Workers can get an addressed post card form at any field office. The field office nearest to you is located at Kingston. Remember: A worker never loses credit for the wages he has earned in jobs covered under the OASI program. Mr. Blumberg concluded, because the Social Security Board keeps a permanent record under the workers name and social security account number of all the wages he has earned in industrial and commercial jobs.

Seeking Combat Soldiers for Jobs At Camp Smith

Because of the experience they gained during World War 2, combat veterans are being offered an opportunity as demonstrators and maintenance men at Camp Smith, Peekskill, for the coming summer.

Experienced combat men can be of great assistance in training State Guard troops, General Drum thinks, and for that reason is offering them assignments for operation of ranges, giving demonstrations, and maintaining ranges.

Combat men who join the State Guard for these positions will receive pay of grade, rations, quarters and allowances, plus travel to and from Camp Smith. Veterans interested in spending the summer at Camp Smith may receive all information concerning details by communicating with Bert Giles, master sergeant of Company A, New York State Guard, State Armory, Manor avenue. His phone is 156. Application in person at the armory is preferable.

Banking Committee Wants O.P.A. Year More

Washington, May 15 (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee voted today to extend the life of the price control law a full year beyond the June 30 expiration date.

Gas on Stomach

When some stomach acid comes out, it is a sign of a healthy stomach. But when it comes out too often, it is a sign of a weak stomach. The reason is that the stomach is supposed to keep the acid in. When it can't, it comes out. This is called "gas on the stomach."

The House previously had voted only a nine months extension and had hedged its approval with numerous restrictions.

Senator Barkley (D-Ky.) said the vote for the year's extension was "about 11 to five." Earlier, the committee had rejected, 10 to seven, a motion by Senator Butler (R-Neb.) for a nine months' extension.

Domination Spirit Charged

Moscow, May 15 (AP)—A Red Star writer charged today that published comment in the United States showed some Americans wanted to keep permanent military bases in Iceland as a part of a program to dominate Europe. P. Rysskov said newspapers of Denmark, Sweden and Norway had declared "many times that the retention of American military forces in Iceland contradicts the wishes of the Icelandic people and violates their sovereignty, no matter on what motives it is based."

Byrnes Proposes Peace Conference For Reich Nov. 12

turn to German problems today for the first time since they met here April 25. The first question on the day's agenda was whether China, in the person of Ambassador Tsiang Tai, would be permitted to participate in the discussion of Germany.

The last item on the agenda for the present conference was scheduled to be France's demand for political detachment of the Ruhr, the Saar and the Rhineland from western Germany. This was expected to occupy the council until tomorrow.

"Should Recognize Differences" Byrnes proposed, in a formal statement last night, that the states should recognize, openly and frankly the differences which exist in drafting peace treaties and that they should adjourn until June 15, trying in the meantime to reconcile the differences.

He proposed further that the ministers convene the 21-nation peace conference either for July 1 or July 15 but added that if the date is set now, it should be fixed at the June 15 meeting. His third proposal was for immediate signature of a liberalized armistice for Italy—already agreed on in principle—and his fourth was for addition of Austria to the agenda.

British and French delegations concurred immediately with Byrnes' program, but the Russian delegation sought time before giving an answer. Sources close to the Soviet delegation expressed belief that Molotov would agree to all except the point concerning Austria. The Russians have refused steadfastly to discuss Austria at this session.

Says Most Butter Is In Black Markets

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Secretary Charles W. Holman of the National Cooperative Milk Producers testified today that from 60 to 80 per cent of the butter now produced is going into black markets.

Holman offered this summary of a "confidential survey" as he urged the Senate Agriculture Committee to fight for removal of all present government price control and subsidy programs affecting milk, butter, cheese, cream and other dairy products.

The witness said O.P.A. price and subsidy policies are to blame because under them dairymen can make more money out of everything except butter, including milk, cheese, cream for ice cream and cream for coffee.

Operators Flatly Reject Demand

The Red Cross with the advice of the mine workers and operators. Lewis wants sole union control of the fund he has proposed.

The operators, repeated, that such an investigation should be conducted to disclose the facts and then that the fund "be based on the findings of such investigation."

"A proper fund to take care of unusual hardship cases is all that is required and is all that the industry should be asked to bear," the operators told Lewis.

Their reply was formally handed to reporters at the same time as it was given to Lewis. They contended that the miners "are well paid and are able to maintain a very high standard of living and a first grade order of citizenship."

"There is no necessity for these citizens being accorded different treatment or being furnished greater privileges than those received by other citizens in the same community," they said.

Offered to Agree
The operators' committee also reminded Lewis that they had offered on March 25, six days before the coal strike began, "to agree that all operators would accept the provisions of the workmen's compensation laws in the states wherein such acceptance is optional and to turn over all the monies collected from the mine workers for the payment of doctors, hospitals, and for similar purposes, for administration by the union."

The operators broke down their present social welfare payments, which they said approximated 10 cents per ton as follows: Social Security, .0374 cents; unemployment, .0351 cents; compensation insurance, .0468 cents; vocational insurance, .044 cents. These totaled .0997 cents.

Lewis presented his demand Monday for the payroll levy. He has asked for the payment for six purposes: medical service, hospitalization, life and health insurance, rehabilitation training, financial aid for distressed families, and cultural and educational work among the miners.

Fuld Takes Oath

Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Stanley H. Fuld, New York city lawyer and an assistant to Governor Dewey when the latter was New York county district attorney, was sworn today as associate judge of the Court of Appeals. Fuld, 42, is among the youngest men ever named to the court. Dewey appointed him April 25 to succeed the late George Z. Meda.

Fuld is expected to be the Republican candidate in November for a full 14-year term. The court's chief judge, John T. Loughran, administered the oath at a ceremony in the executive chambers, while the governor held the Bible, an edition of 1664 formerly owned by Sir William Blackstone, the legal authority, and now the property of the state.

Would Recruit Workers

London, May 15 (AP)—The recruitment of labor in the United States is being considered, George Hall, secretary for colonies, told the House of Commons today.

A large delegation of state conservation department attended the services in a body. Services were conducted by the Rev. Frank B. Seeley, pastor emeritus. During the services the hymns "Lead Kindly Light" and "Nearer My God To Thee" were rendered by Miss Geraldine Peters and accompanied by Mrs. Ella Eltinge at the organ. Burial was in Rosendale Plains cemetery. Bearers were Harry DeWitt, Maynard DeWitt, John W. DeWitt and John DeWitt.

Marine Corps League Will Meet Tonight

Members of the Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League, will meet in the American Legion Memorial Building tonight at 7 o'clock to drill for the Memorial Day parade and to discuss plans for the funds drive in June.

At Monday's meeting, John R. Mayone, commandant, was authorized to make arrangements through the Veterans Administration to help disabled marines.

The Marine League is interested in all matters concerning those who served under marine commanders during war or peace, and invites all eligible men and women to join the Ulster Detachment. All members are urged to attend tonight's meeting.

War Restrictions Off

Moscow, May 15 (AP)—Russian transportation officials announced today that extra trains would be placed tonight on all lines under a new summer schedule. All wartime travel restrictions will be lifted June 1. Before the war, Russians could travel freely within the Soviet Union. During the war, travel passes were required.

Fleming the Same

Belfast, Northern Ireland, May 15 (AP)—Crumlin Road Prison officials reported "no change" today in the condition of David Fleming, hunger striking I.R.A. convict. Fleming first refused food March 20 in protest against treatment of political prisoners.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our mother, Anna Van Dyke, who passed away four years ago. We pause and think of you, And think of how you died; And how you could not say goodbye. Before you closed your eyes. It is not the tears that are shed That tell of the hearts that are broken; But the silent tears in after years And remembrances always spoken Today recalls the memory Of the loved one laid to rest; And those who think of her today Are the ones who loved her best. Communities Responsible For Arterial Highway

Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Municipalities are responsible for maintenance of state arterial highways within their boundaries, Public Works Superintendent Charles H. Sells said today.

In letters to all mayors in the state, Sells said "there is a misunderstanding among city officials" regarding the question of extensions of state highways, which form portions of city arterial routes.

Sells added that the state has no power to maintain the city arterial routes and only has authority for their construction.

BRITAIN, IRAN AND OIL

Friction is developing not only between Iran and Russia, but between Iran and Great Britain. The trouble is the old familiar one: oil. Bahrain Island, in the Persian Gulf, is considered by the Iranians part of their country, but the British have held it as a protectorate since 1892. Now oil has been found there, and the concession has been awarded to Standard Oil of California and the Texas Company. What it means is shown by the fact that this tiny island, only 27 miles long and ten miles wide, produced in 1941 almost as much oil as Germany and Japan put together. Before that, Bahrain ranked 14th among the world's oil producing countries. This wealth encourages the Iranians to seek freedom from British control and reduce the authority of the local, British-protected sheik.

More would undoubtedly have been heard of this British-Iranian dispute, had not Iran developed a more serious argument with Russia. Having only one great power as an enemy in a luxury for a small country, not to mention two. Sooner or later the problem will come up before the United Nations.

SET FOR TRAGEDY

March fire losses for the nation totaled more than $53,000,000, an increase of thirty per cent over the same month of 1945. For the fourth consecutive month fire losses have soared to new high records compared to last year. Part of this increase is inevitable, as a result of rising property values. In fact it would have been much more had not organized fire prevention efforts helped to hold down fire destruction. However, the problem of fire is critical. The stage is set for the most ghastly fire waste of life and property this country has ever seen. Over-age buildings, crowding, and makeshift renovating can lead to a national tragedy. The only effective way to prevent it is by developing individual consciousness of the danger. If the fire prevention authorities can impress upon each and every one of us the necessity of observing caution where the possibility of fire is concerned, the battle is half won.

Now, in the spring, is a good time to apply this individual caution. Clean up your premises. Attic, closet, basement, heating system—all should be given the closest attention. It is a good thing to remember that many older buildings develop fire hazards. Cracked or burnt out flues and obsolete wiring are menaces to watch.

PARTITIONED GERMANY

Almost 300 years ago the Peace of Westphalia ended the 30 Years' war, till then and for many years afterward the most devastating war the world had ever seen. The treaty, according to the English historian C. F. Strong's new book, "Dynamic Europe," recognized 343 separate states in German territory, all of them empowered to make war and conclude alliances.

Germany cannot be understood without knowing from what a split-up condition she has gradually emerged, and how the urge to unity finally brought about one compact, powerful German state. Now Germany is divided into 343 parts but into four. If there is any value in studying past history, it suggests that this divided condition will not last, any more than it did in 1648. Also that the future of Europe cannot be secured merely by a partition of indefinite length, but by some structure like the United Nations, reinforced by an anti-German alliance like that proposed by Secretary Byrnes.

NEW CHAPTER IN HISTORY

The Roman empire traded with far-off Indo-China. So Dr. Olov R. T. Janse, head of a Harvard archaeological expedition to Indo-China, told the recent convention of the American Oriental Society. Till now the vast stretches of Asia had been thought to cut off the civilization of Europe at a point not much east of Persia. The one exception was the purchase of Chinese silk, but this passed through many middlemen; and Chinese sell-

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

MIKHAILOVICH

A committee of Americans, headed by Dorothy Thompson, has been organized to seek justice for Draja Mikhailovich, leader of the Chetniks, ally of the United States in one of the most serious phases of the war. This committee represents many segments of American life, all except the Fifth Column Communists. The assumption of its leadership by Dorothy Thompson guarantees that it is authentically American, for this much maligned lady is one of our finer and more courageous minds fighting everlastingly and valiantly for human liberty and justice.

When the Nazi held Yugoslavia and it seemed that his power would overwhelm the whole of Europe, if not all the world, Mikhailovich organized the Yugoslavian guerrillas—not unlike Marion's Band of our own Revolution—which forced Hitler to keep divisions in the Balkans that he could have employed against Russia. This act of heroism should have brought to Mikhailovich and the Chetniks the undying gratitude of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, Mikhailovich believed in human liberty and the independence of his own country. He did not believe in the Russian hegemony over the Balkans. He was not a Communist—not a member of the Third International. His precepts of democracy were similar to ours.

And so he was deserted by the United States and Great Britain. Tito-Josip Broz—a Communist, actually trained in the Red Army of Soviet Russia, was projected by the Russians and eventually accepted by Roosevelt and Churchill.

When the Western countries were being publicized to the acceptance of Tito, it was necessary to justify the desertion of Mikhailovich and the Chetniks by our country. It was necessary to explain that the man who had painted on a canvas of heroism equal to Kossuth and Pulaski no longer was worthy of our respect. So instead of frankly saying that Soviet Russia objected to Mikhailovich and demanded Tito, and that Roosevelt and Churchill could not resist the Russian claims—or would not—Roosevelt and Churchill permitted the story to circulate that Mikhailovich had collaborated with the Nazi.

Many who knew the man and the situation in the Balkans believed this tale to be a lie—a false piece of wartime propaganda similar to many circulated to confuse us. Governments in this war generally lie. Most of us, however, knew nothing of such a country as Yugoslavia and less than nothing of its personalities. After V-E Day, our principal concern was to get over the war with Japan. After V-J Day, our most intense concern was to get our boys home as quickly as possible.

It is only now that we are becoming conscious of the fact that we did not win the war in Europe and that our sons are still expendable in all parts of the earth. And slowly it is coming to us that at Teheran, Yalta, Moscow and Potsdam, we were betrayed and deceived by our own representatives. Certainly, no one in America—neither internationalist nor isolationist—anticipated the confusions and debasements facing mankind at this moment.

The matter of Mikhailovich involves our honor and dignity as a nation. In the horror of the substitution of the despotism of Stalin for the despotism of Hitler many things occurred of which we still know little or nothing. Mikhailovich may or may not have communicated with the Germans when he recognized the inevitability of a Soviet conquest of his country. I do not know the facts—nor do you.

But the man—our ally in the moment of our direct need—is entitled to a fair, impartial trial. He is entitled to a fighting chance for his life. This he cannot get in Yugoslavia. This he cannot get from Tito. This he cannot get from a court overshadowed by the will of the Kremlin. It is an American obligation to see to it that he has justice—come what may.

Why not try him before a tribunal set up by the United Nations here in New York? Why not try him before an international court? Why not try him in the blazing sun of a free press? That is the American way, even for the guilty—why not for one who may be innocent?

THE PERITONEOSCOPE

No one looks forward to a surgical operation but most patients are willing to undergo operation if their physician advises it either to find out what is causing symptoms or because life is threatened.

I have spoken before about the exploratory incision in which the surgeon opens the abdomen to see and feel what is present and sometimes to remove a small piece of tissue to be examined under the microscope. This is not a dangerous operation but it is called an operation just the same as the same preparation, skill and care must be used as in a large or regular operation.

What will appeal to many who fear operation but must find cause of symptoms, is the peritoneoscope offers a safe method of examination of the organs of the abdomen. I spoke of this peritoneoscopic examination just a few weeks ago but apparently there are many who have not learned about its usefulness. It gives knowledge that enables the physician and surgeon to make their decision as to whether or not operation is necessary or whether other methods of treatment will be sufficient.

In the previous article Dr. Joseph Gaster, Los Angeles, California, outlined conditions that could be recognized by means of the peritoneoscope—cancer, jaundice, pregnancy, other tumors than cancer. "Over fifty different abdominal conditions have been seen through the peritoneoscope."

Naturally a patient who has been advised to undergo operation would prefer this simple method—a blunt needle pushed through abdominal wall—to the usual operation of opening up the abdomen. I thought it would be well therefore that they should know that there are certain conditions under which peritoneoscopy should not be used. In Medical Clinics of North America, Dr. W. W. Oaks, Philadelphia, outlines these four conditions:

The acute abdomen—appendix or other pus condition, because of the danger of spreading infection already present.

Bleeding, as it may increase the bleeding.

Advanced heart disease or pneumonia.

Extensive adhesions, as peritoneoscopy might perforate the bowel.

The National Airport Aid Bill has finally been passed by the United States Senate.

The attached article is one of many appearing in newspapers throughout the country. Please print it. (The article.)

Raleigh, N. C. May 5—(A.P.S.)—An opinion issued by the North Carolina State Supreme Court indicates a changing attitude toward airports as an essential part of a progressive community.

"Unquestionably," the opinion said, "the immediate future of civil aviation will bring to us results undreamed of; transportation of mail, passengers and freight will reach proportions hitherto thought impossible. Already we have in this method of travel and transportation a rival of all other means now employed; and an opportunity which these cities, amongst our largest and most prosperous, can no more afford to lose than we can afford to deny them except upon cogent reasons."

"A city acts for city purposes when it builds a dock or a bridge or a subway. Its purpose is not different when it builds an airport. Aviation is today an established method of transportation. The future, even the near future, will make it still more general. The city that is without the foresight to build the ports for the new traffic may soon be left behind in the race of competition."

The civil aeronautics Administration have approved the "Flat-bush Site" for a Class III Airport. The Saugerties Chamber of Commerce and Kingston Chamber of Commerce have approved the development and so notified the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The Ulster County Board of Supervisors Airport Committee are working on the plan to construct an airport on this site at "Flatbush."

It is the time to get after your local members of the Board of Supervisors and insist on action. Kingston and Ulster County residents in general wake up when it is five years too late.

Let's be different about the airport.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPE

Floating Plants for Garden Pools

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

THOSE WHO have shallow reflection pools, however small, as a focal point in their gardens can add to the interest of them by the addition of floating plants.

These same floating plants can also be used for additional decoration in larger pool containing water lilies.

One of the most interesting of the floating plants is the Water Hyacinth, shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

This plant has shining dark leaves and orchid blue flowers resembling a hyacinth, hence its name. It also has interesting feathery roots which hang down in the water, as illustrated. It should be used, however, only in a pool which has a sunny location.

Another interesting plant is known as Water Lettuce. It is a floating plant, as illustrated, which can be used in a shallow pool. It thrives best in a shaded location.

The Water Poppy is still another attractive floating plant which will thrive in a sunny, shallow pool. It has long, yellow poppy-like flowers.

If you have been disappointed in the amount of blooms they produce, try giving them extra feedings of dried blood or cow manure.

This can be done by preparing a "dinner bag" for each lily plant. Fill a small cheesecloth bag with dried blood or cow manure. Then place it in a hole scooped out in the soil in which the lily is rooted. Do this before the boxes containing the lilies are placed in the pool for the season.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

As I look back over the more than a quarter of a century that I have been daily writing the history of the city in my work as a reporter I find many familiar faces missing from the life of Kingston.

Among the many outstanding men of the city who died in 1928, I recall Prof. Arthur H. Snyder, widely known organist, Isaac Y. Mesereau, one of the old time painters, Joseph S. Dolson, house painter, Lorenzo Short, photographer, Dr. John A. Huhne, veterinarian, to mention but a few.

Mr. Mesereau, who had been engaged in the newspaper business all his life, died on August 7, 1928. In the days of Horatio Fowkes he was employed as a compositor on the old Rondout Courier, and from there he went to The Freeman as a compositor. He was also a member of the reportorial staff for a number of years.

He was one of the founders of the old Kingston Daily Express, that was published for years on lower Broadway, in the building opposite the former Stock & Cordts furniture house. The Express was finally absorbed by the Kingston Leader.

Mr. Mesereau also founded and published the Rosendale Journal, a weekly newspaper, for a number of years.

Professor Snyder who died in his home on John street on July 23, 1928, for years was one of the outstanding organists of Kingston. Among the many churches he served as organist were the Fair Street Reformed Church, St. Joseph's Church, Trinity Methodist Church, St. James Methodist Church, Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church.

Lorenzo Short for half a century was one of the leading photographers of the city, and had his studio on East Strand, where the business, since his death, has been carried on by his daughter, Belle Short. Undoubtedly there are many readers of this column who had their photographs taken by Mr. Short.

Joseph S. Dolson died in his home on Clinton avenue on July 19, of that year. He was for years a well known house painter, and was a brother of the late Walter C. Dolson, a former postmaster of Kingston. Externally he was a member of Minniewaska Tribe of Red Men.

Dr. Huhne died in his home on Abel street on August 9, 1928, aged 60 years. He was a veteran of the Spanish American War. As a youth he graduated from old Ulster Academy and then attended the American College of Veterinary Surgeons in New York.

After graduating from college he returned to Kingston and began to practice his profession.

Dr. Huhne was active in the fraternal and industrial life of the city. He was a member of Rondout Lodge of Masons and of the Shrine. For years he was an active member of the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

What say to Hongkong? It's a ruined paradise, lovely and still romantic. But let's come back when they've rebuilt the old fine houses on "the peak."

Sydney? The best yet, and the best place to settle in. It's Australia's San Francisco, and the Aussies will take you to their hearts. But it's too far from the world's nerve centers.

Batavia? You'd like it in peacetime. Right now, though, if you sat down to your dinner there you'd be worrying whether a small brown Japanese carrying something bigger than a popgun might take a potshot through your window.

Singapore? Well, you sometimes dislike a city for no particular reason. And that's why Singapore is out. But there are plenty of reasons, too.

Calcutta? Who wants to spend his life in a Turkish bath? And a Borty one at that.

Bombay? It glitters like a big circus. You could be happy in the Taj Mahal Hotel with a different servant for every dish. If you have a white skin, however, you are allergic to having a brick thrown at it—keep traveling, mis-

Friends of Russia Do Not Realize Difficulty of Getting Information Out of Moscow for United States Papers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 15—Many are the observers of the passing scene who write in and say that the Russian viewpoint isn't being adequately presented in world affairs or that the American press is emphasizing friction between Russia and the United States. But these friends of Russia do not know how difficult it is for the newspapers of the United States to get information out of Moscow.

Admittedly the New York Times, for instance, is a great newspaper and a fair and objective publication. Yet the publisher of The Times, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, in a report in the current issue of "editor and publisher," makes this significant revelation:

"We've striven and are constantly striving to get more correspondents into Russia. Brooks Atkinson, present Moscow correspondent for The Times, took six months and a personal cable to Stalin to get in. Drew Middleton, who is about to replace him, had his application for a visa for his passport pending more than a year."

"Why there should be so much difficulty, I don't know. We sought to have more than one man in Moscow. It was forbidden. We were recently told we were unfriendly and certain news stories were quoted as a sample of this. We were told there was a news bureau where stories could be checked for accuracy. The first story that was submitted was neither confirmed nor denied."

"I think that Russia, the great country that it is, is the most important news story in the world. I wish we could put half a dozen men there and give you all of the news."

"I still believe that freedom of access to the news is the sine qua non of peace because peace will come only with understanding, and somehow or other we've got to raise that iron curtain. I do not think it can be done by force. I do not think you can flood people on the other side with propaganda, but instead it can be done by the normal flow of news which is established by our sending correspondents there and their sending correspondents here and the normal flow of news."

The New York Times isn't the only newspaper that has difficulty getting correspondents into Russia.

What is the answer? Nobody in Washington seems to know. Our government tries to use its offices to get correspondents into Russia but without avail. The United States government has been urged to limit the number of Russian offices or agents who are coming into the United States until some understanding is reached with respect to the sending in of Americans to Russia.

Plainly there is a wide gulf between the two governments. The usual explanation made is that the governments are suspicious of one another or that Communism doesn't trust capitalism or vice versa. But the American people and the Russian people, no matter what their economic systems may be, have a friendly feeling for one another. General Eisenhower, for example, has told correspondents here of the fraternal conversations he has with Russian officers and there is no question in his mind about the desire of the Russian Army men to develop closer relations with the Americans.

Yet, in spite of these trends, there are difficulties. There are cleavages which actually make some people here talk in terms of possible war with Russia some day. There would not be the slightest basis for such speculative gossip except for the constant clashes in conferences between the governments and the refusal of the Russians to let the American people get closer to them, which would be the case if restrictions on the entry of the press into Russia and censorship were removed.

One explanation of the Russian policy of secrecy sometimes advanced here is that the Russians really are afraid to let the outside world know the true condition under which the Russian people live for fear that Communism would be hurt in the eyes of the outside world. Whether or not this is true, the Russians could meet such criticism readily by allowing more correspondents into their country to report the great progress which has been made since the days of the czars' regime. Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Berlin, May 15 (AP)—The most interesting city in the world today is Berlin. It is also one of the most comfortable to live in—if you have an American, Russian, British or French passport. If you are German, any farm in Bavaria would be better.

War and postwar living conditions have changed the flavor as well as the appearance of many famous cities. What you used to travel half the globe to see is no longer there.

New York, unless it has changed in the last few months, has become a sardine can. I have a friend, a former soldier, who turned down a fine-paying job in Manhattan. His family had settled in a town several states away during the war, and my friend was unable to find an apartment for them anywhere, among the New York skyline. "So I'm hitting for the hills again," he said.

Going westward you hit San Francisco. "You should have seen it in the old days," the natives cry, "and complain of lack of lebensraum."

Let's not slow down at Honolulu. The navy probably charges you four foot-space on the pier there now, and Waikiki Beach is a second Coney Island.

Tokyo? It's okay if you like to bunk down in a city that looks like a mouth full of broken teeth. But the gaps will finally get your nerves down. And the emperor's little people will worry you with their over-politeness.

We won't even consider Korea. The wife wouldn't like it and neither would the kids.

How about Shanghai? Well, if you're a single man loose on the town, you can kick your heels awfully high. But the "welcome" sign doesn't look like the Chinese had been polishing it much lately.

After graduating from college he returned to Kingston and began to practice his profession.

Dr. Huhne was active in the fraternal and industrial life of the city. He was a member of Rondout Lodge of Masons and of the Shrine. For years he was an active member of the Rondout Presbyterian Church.

What say to Hongkong? It's a ruined paradise, lovely and still romantic. But let's come back when they've rebuilt the old fine houses on "the peak."

Sydney? The best yet, and the best place to settle in. It's Australia's San Francisco, and the Aussies will take you to their hearts. But it's too far from the world's nerve centers.

Batavia? You'd like it in peacetime. Right now, though, if you sat down to your dinner there you'd be worrying whether a small brown Japanese carrying something bigger than a popgun might take a potshot through your window.

Singapore? Well, you sometimes dislike a city for no particular reason. And that's why Singapore is out. But there are plenty of reasons, too.

Calcutta? Who wants to spend his life in a Turkish bath? And a Borty one at that.

Bombay? It glitters like a big circus. You could be happy in the Taj Mahal Hotel with a different servant for every dish. If you have a white skin, however, you are allergic to having a brick thrown at it—keep traveling, mis-

Holumzer-Fabiny Wedding Takes Place

The Community Church on the Circle in Mount Vernon was the setting for the marriage of Miss Elsa Fabiny, daughter of Albert G. Fabiny of Mount Vernon to Edwin Holumzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Holumzer of Zena, Sunday at 1 p. m. The Rev. Carl Weist, pastor, officiated. The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and snapdragons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of satin and net, a fingertip veil with coronet of pearls. She carried a sweetheart bouquet of white rosebuds. A niece of the bride, Miss Beatrice Knapp of Mount Vernon was maid of honor. She wore a pink gown and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Another niece, three-year-old Dianne Fabiny, was flower girl. She wore a blue gown and carried sweet peas.

John Holumzer was best man for his brother, Albert Fabiny and Monte Black. The bridesmaids were immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp.

Mrs. Holumzer attended schools in Mount Vernon and was employed as assistant treasurer of the Ward Motor Co. of Mount Vernon. The bridegroom attended Kingston High School and has recently been discharged from the army after serving almost three years stationed in Hawaii and with the occupation forces in Japan. He is now employed in Elwyn Brothers store, Woodstock. The couple will make their home in "Holly Haven," Pilot Hill, Zena.

Wallkill Pupils Will Give Concert Friday

About 150 Wallkill music students will perform at the Spring Concert Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Central School auditorium under the direction of Miss Agnes Hemenway. The concert is free and the public is invited.

Groups participating will be the Girls' Sextet, the W.C.S. Girls' Glee Club (45 voices), the intermediate chords (40 voices), the song flute band of Plattkill (led by Miss Elaine Kniffen) and the W.C.S. Band.

Soloists at the concert will be Winona Wynkoop, bell solo; Charles Thompson, piano; Helen Morehouse, soprano; Shelby Harcourt, French horn; Philip Rappleyea, clarinet; Richard Henzel, piano; Hope Gibson, violin; Consuelo Lafuente, soprano; Marjorie Conklin and Norman Eckert, trumpet duet.

Choir Concert Organist and Soloists

Zelma Teague Johnson, director and teacher of the Johnson Organ Studios of Carnegie Hall, New York, will present a program of concert organ music on the new Hammond organ during the A Cappella Choir Concert Friday and Saturday nights, 8:15 o'clock, at Kingston High School. She will play six numbers.

Miss Johnson, a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, O., is known in New York music circles for her church, radio and entertainment work. She recently completed an engagement playing for the National Advertising Convention at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York.

The concert will include the regular choral numbers under the direction of Leonard Stine but will feature the new organ which has been presented to the school by the choir.

Ten of the students will sing solos. Shown at rehearsal last week they are at the piano the Misses Gretchen Bence and Kathryn Sweeney; standing from left, James Halbert, Miss Patricia Keefe, Miss Betty LaTour, Richard Baker, Floyd Vogt, Herman Schwenk, Miss Valerie Beam and Miss Beth Sherman. Changes in State Law Recommended by Bar Association

New York, May 15 (AP)—Six changes in the New York state law recommended by the New York County Criminal Courts Bar Association as an effort to prevent convictions.

The association made the recommendations. Herman Hoffman, president, said late yesterday, after a study of the case of Bertram M. Campbell, who was falsely convicted of forgery in 1938 and served 40 months in Sing Sing prison.

Campbell, who was cleared last year when Alexander D. L. Thiel confessed to the crime, was identified erroneously by witnesses during his trial.

Hoffman listed these proposed changes:

Visual identification to be judicially supervised; an automatic mistrial to be declared where changes of counsel occur through no fault of the defendant; motions for a new trial be permissible at any time; appellate review be made available to indigent defendants.

The association also recommended that prosecutors be prevented from accepting the services of private detectives and counsel unless the entire case is turned over for private prosecution.

Campbell was officially pardoned by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey who recommended the legislature authorize him to sue the state. Last week the State Court of Claims ruled that Campbell would receive $40,000 for loss of earnings and reduction in earning power. Decision was reserved on his $100,000 claim for humiliation.

Seeking Combat Soldiers for Jobs At Camp Smith

Because of the experience they gained during World War 2, combat veterans are being offered an opportunity as demonstrators and maintenance men at Camp Smith, Peekskill, for the coming summer.

Experienced combat men can be of great assistance in training State Guard troops. General Drum thinks, and for that reason is offering them assignments for operation of ranges, giving demonstrations, and maintaining ranges.

Combat men who join the State Guard for these positions will receive pay of grade, rations, quarters and allowances, plus travel to and from Camp Smith.

Veterans interested in spending the summer at Camp Smith may receive all information concerning details by communicating with Bert Giles, master sergeant of Company A, New York State Guard, State Armory, Manor avenue. His phone is 156. Application in person at the armory is preferable.

Blumberg Points Out Claims Must Be Filed for Aid

There are more than 196,000 persons in New York State who are receiving monthly checks under the old-age and survivors insurance program, but there are some persons who fail to file their claims, or who neglect to claim their benefits at the right time. Jerome Blumberg, manager of the Kingston field office stated today in offering the following advice:

"The first important fact to remember is that benefits do not come automatically to workers or workers or to survivors of workers who have died," Mr. Blumberg explained. "They must be applied for at any field office of the Social Security Board," he said. "A worker should get in touch with the social security field office as soon as he reaches age 65. Due to uncertainty about jobs when a worker becomes older, disability, illness and many other unforeseen hazards, workers should consult the nearest social security office as soon as they reach 65, even though they do not intend to retire at that time." For example, Mr. Blumberg pointed out, "A woman 68 years old, who had never filed for monthly benefits, became ill and had to stop working. She thought it was only a brief illness, but her ill health was prolonged. She learned too late that she could have received her monthly insurance payments if she had filed her claim when she became 65, or when she first became ill. "Claims for monthly benefits for wives, widows, children and parents should be filed immediately after the insured worker's death." Monthly payments to survivors are retroactive, but for not more than three months prior to the month of filing. Thus, if a claim is not filed until the fourth month after the month of the insured person's death, one month's payment is lost.

Showing the importance of the worker's wage record, Mr. Blumberg stated that there was $15,969.79 being paid to workers in Ulster county. In addition, wives of retired workers are receiving $2,632.55 in monthly benefits, and survivors of workers who have died are receiving monthly checks totalling $6,777.11.

Another important thing to know about the worker's social security records is that a wage earner should check his account once a year by writing to the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Md., and asking for a statement of his account. Mr. Blumberg advised. Workers can get an addressed post card form at any field office. The field office nearest to you is located at Kingston. Remember: A worker never loses credit for the wages he has earned in jobs covered under the OASI program. Mr. Blumberg concluded, because the Social Security Board keeps a permanent record under the workers name and social security account number of all the wages he has earned in industrial and commercial jobs.

Town of Marbletown

A.L. to Elect Officers

High Falls, May 14—Veterans of the town of Marbletown and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the next meeting of the newly organized town of Marbletown Post of the American Legion, at the High Falls Fire Hall, Thursday, May 16 at 8:30 p. m. At this meeting officers will be elected and a temporary constitution and by-laws will be adopted. It is considered to be of great importance that officers be elected who will guide the post wisely in its formative period.

Much interest was shown at the last meeting, when about a hundred attended and an even greater crowd is hoped for Thursday. Veterans are asked to bring their discharges with them. Women of the armed forces are also eligible and the Post already boasts of one Wave. Members of the Merchant Marine and those with Draft Board discharges are not eligible for membership.

There will be a meeting in Woodstock of the County American Legion and Auxiliary on Monday evening, May 20 and veterans from this post and their wives, mothers, sisters and daughters are invited.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

Let That Be a Lesson

Livingston, Mont., May 15 (AP)—Two hours after parking meters began operating here, the first offender appeared in police court for overtime parking and paid his $1 fine.

The culprit was Mayor Walter C. House.

A Bloomin' Bloody Trip

Parsons, Kas., May 15 (AP)—Police halted Tom Russell on a New York pier as he rushed to meet his British bride and three-month-old son on the Queen Mary.

"I've forgotten my bloomin' pocketbook," he shouted. His posing as a British sailor worked as far as a porthole where he saw his wife but couldn't get any further.

Deflated

Oshkosh, Wis., May 15 (AP)—Three youths who admitted to police they deflated tires on a string of parked automobiles, learned the folly of their prank the hard way.

With policeman Walter Lopp now supervising, the three boys, each manned a hand pump, re-inflated all the tires to normal pressure.

BRITAIN, IRAN AND OIL

Friction is developing not only between Iran and Russia, but between Iran and Great Britain. The trouble is the old familiar one: oil. Bahrain Island, in the Persian Gulf, is considered by the Iranians part of their country, but the British have held it as a protectorate since 1892. Now oil has been found there, and the concession has been awarded to Standard Oil of California and the Texas Company. What it means is shown by the fact that this tiny island, only 27 miles long and ten miles wide, produced in 1941 almost as much oil as Germany and Japan put together. Before that, Bahrain ranked 14th among the world's oil producing countries. This wealth encourages the Iranians to seek freedom from British control and reduce the authority of the local, British-protected sheik.

More would undoubtedly have been heard of this British-Iranian dispute, had not Iran developed a more serious argument with Russia. Having only one great power as an enemy in a luxury for a small country, not to mention two. Sooner or later the problem will come up before the United Nations.

SET FOR TRAGEDY

March fire losses for the nation totaled more than $53,000,000, an increase of thirty per cent over the same month of 1945. For the fourth consecutive month fire losses have soared to new high records compared to last year. Part of this increase is inevitable, as a result of rising property values. In fact it would have been much more had not organized fire prevention efforts helped to hold down fire destruction. However, the problem of fire is critical. The stage is set for the most ghastly fire waste of life and property this country has ever seen. Over-age buildings, crowding, and makeshift renovating can lead to a national tragedy. The only effective way to prevent it is by developing individual consciousness of the danger. If the fire prevention authorities can impress upon each and every one of us the necessity of observing caution where the possibility of fire is concerned, the battle is half won.

Now, in the spring, is a good time to apply this individual caution. Clean up your premises. Attic, closet, basement, heating system—all should be given the closest attention. It is a good thing to remember that many older buildings develop fire hazards. Cracked or burnt out flues and obsolete wiring are menaces to watch.

PARTITIONED GERMANY

Almost 300 years ago the Peace of Westphalia ended the 30 Years' war, till then and for many years afterward the most devastating war the world had ever seen. The treaty, according to the English historian C. F. Strong's new book, "Dynamic Europe," recognized 343 separate states in German territory, all of them empowered to make war and conclude alliances.

Germany cannot be understood without knowing from what a split-up condition she has gradually emerged, and how the urge to unity finally brought about one compact, powerful German state. Now Germany is divided not into 343 parts but into four. If there is any value in studying past history, it suggests that this divided condition will not last, any more than it did in 1648. Also that the future of Europe cannot be secured merely by a partition of indefinite length, but by some structure like the United Nations, reinforced by an anti-German alliance like that proposed by Secretary Byrnes.

Till now the vast stretches of Asia had been thought to cut off the civilization of Europe at a point not much east of Persia. The one exception was the purchase of Chinese silk, but this passed through many middlemen; and Chinese sell-

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

MIKHAILOVICH

A committee of Americans, headed by Dorothy Thompson, has been organized to seek justice for Draja Mikhailovich, leader of the Chetniks, ally of the United States in one of the most serious phases of the war. This committee represents many segments of American life, all except the Fifth Column Communists. The assumption of its leadership by Dorothy Thompson guarantees that it is authentically American, for this much maligned lady is one of our finer and more courageous minds—fighting everlastingly and valiantly for human liberty and justice.

When the Nazi held Yugoslavia and it seemed that his power would overwhelm the whole of Europe, if not all the world, Mikhailovich organized the Yugoslavian guerrillas—not unlike Marion's Band of our own Revolution—which forced Hitler to keep divisions in the Balkans that he could have employed against Russia. This act of heroism should have brought to Mikhailovich and the Chetniks the undying gratitude of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, Mikhailovich believed in human liberty and the independence of his own country. He did not believe in the Russian hegemony over the Balkans. He was not a Communist—not a member of the Third International. His precepts of democracy were similar to ours.

And so he was deserted by the United States and Great Britain. Tito—Josip Broz—a Communist, actually trained in the Red Army of Soviet Russia, was projected by the Russians and eventually accepted by Roosevelt and Churchill.

When the Western countries were being publicized to the acceptance of Tito, it was necessary to justify the desertion of Mikhailovich and the Chetniks by our country. It was necessary to explain that the man who had painted on a canvas of heroism equal to Kossuth and Pulaski no longer was worthy of our respect. So instead of frankly saying that Soviet Russia objected to Mikhailovich and demanded Tito, and that Roosevelt and Churchill could not resist the Russian claims—or would not—Roosevelt and Churchill permitted the story to circulate that Mikhailovich had collaborated with the Nazis.

Many who knew the man and the situation in the Balkans believed this tale to be a lie—a false piece of wartime propaganda similar to many circulated to confuse us. Governments in this war generally lied. Most of us, however, knew nothing of such a country as Yugoslavia and less than nothing of its personalities. After V-E Day, our principal concern was to get over the war with Japan. After V-J Day, our most intense concern was to get our boys home as quickly as possible.

It is only now that we are becoming conscious of the fact that we did not win the war in Europe and that our sons are still expendable in all parts of the earth. And slowly it is coming to us that at Teheran, Yalta, Moscow and Potsdam, we were betrayed and deceived by our own representatives. Certainly, no one in America—neither internationalist nor isolationist—anticipated the confusions and debasements facing mankind at this moment.

The matter of Mikhailovich involves our honor and dignity as a nation. In the horror of the substitution of the despotism of Stalin for the despotism of Hitler many things occurred of which we still know little or nothing. Mikhailovich may or may not have communicated with the Germans when he recognized the inevitability of a Soviet conquest of his country. I do not know the facts—nor do you.

But the man—our ally in the moment of our direct need—is entitled to a fair, impartial, trial. He is entitled to a fighting chance for his life. He cannot get in Yugoslavia. This he cannot get from Tito. This he cannot get from a court overshadowed by the will of the Kremlin. It is an American obligation to see to it that he has justice—come what may.

Why not try him before a tribunal set up by the United Nations here in New York? Why not try him before an international court? Why not try him in the United States? That is the American way, even for the guilty—why not for one who may establish his innocence? (Copyright, 1946, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE PERITONEOSCOPE

No one looks forward to a surgical operation but most patients are willing to undergo operation if their physician advises it either to find out what is causing symptoms or because life is threatened.

I have spoken before about the exploratory incision in which the surgeon opens the abdomen to see and feel what is present and sometimes to remove a small piece of tissue to be examined under the microscope. This is not a dangerous operation but it is called an operation just the same as the same preparation, skill and care must be used as in a large or regular operation.

What will appeal to many who fear operation but must find cause of symptoms, is the peritoneoscope offers a safe method of examination of the organs of the abdomen. I spoke of this peritoneoscopic examination just a few weeks ago but apparently there are many who have not learned about its usefulness. It gives knowledge that enables the physician and surgeon to make their decision as to whether or not operation is necessary or whether other methods of treatment will be sufficient. In the previous article Dr. Joseph Gaster, Los Angeles, California, outlined conditions that could be recognized by means of the peritoneoscope—cancer, jaundice, pregnancy, other tumors, etc.

Over fifty different abdominal conditions have been seen through the peritoneoscope. Naturally a patient who has been advised to undergo operation would prefer this simple method—a blunt needle pushed through abdominal wall—to the usual operation of opening up the abdomen. I thought it would be well therefore that they should know that there are certain conditions under which peritoneoscopy should not be used. In Medical Clinics of North America, Dr. W. W. Oaks, Philadelphia, outlines these four conditions:

The acute abdomen—appendix or other pus condition, because of the danger of spreading infection already present.

Bleeding, as it may increase the bleeding. Advanced heart disease or pneumonia.

Extensive adhesions, as peritoneoscopy might perforate the bowel.

Calls for Action

May 11, 1946

Editor, The Freeman

The National Airport Aid Bill has finally been passed by the United States Senate.

The attached article is one of many appearing in newspapers throughout the country. Please print it. (The article)

Raleigh, N. C. May 5—(A.P.S.)—An opinion issued by North Carolina State Supreme Court indicates a changing attitude toward airports as an essential part of a progressive community.

"Unquestionably," the opinion said, "the immediate future of civil aviation will bring to us results undreamed of; transportation of goods, passengers, freight will reach proportions hitherto thought impossible. Already we have in this method of travel and transportation a vital part of all other means now employed; and an opportunity which these cities, amongst our largest and most prosperous, can no more afford to lose than we can afford to deny them except upon cogent reasons."

"A city acts for city purposes when it builds a dock or a bridge or a subway. Its purpose is not different when it builds an airport. Aviation is today an established method of transportation. The future, even the near future, will make it still more general. The city that is without the foresight to build the ports for the new traffic may soon be left behind in the race of competition."

The civil aeronautics Administration have approved the "Flat-bush Site" for a Class III Airport. The Saugerties Chamber of Commerce and Kingston Chamber of Commerce have approved the development and so notified the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The Ulster County Board of Supervisors Airport Committee are working on the plan to construct an airport on this site at "Flatbush."

Now is the time to get after your local members of the Board of Supervisors and insist on action. Kingston and Ulster County residents in general wake up late. It is five years too late.

Let's be different about the airport.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

Floating Plants for Garden Pools

By DEAN HALLIDAY

Released by Central Press Association

THOSE WHO have shallow reflection pools, however small, as a focal point in their gardens can add to the interest of them by the addition of floating plants.

These same floating plants can also be used for additional decoration in larger pool containing water lilies.

One of the most interesting of the floating plants is the Water Hyacinth, shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

This plant has shining dark leaves and orchid blue flowers resembling a hyacinth, hence its name. It also has interesting feathery roots which hang down in the water, as illustrated. It should be used, however, only in a pool which has a sunny location.

Another interesting plant is known as Water Lettuce. It is a floating plant, as illustrated, which can be used in a shallow pool. It thrives best in a shaded location.

The Water Poppy is still another attractive floating plant which will thrive in a sunny, shallow pool. It has long, yellow poppy-like flowers.

If you have water lilies in a pool and have been disappointed in the amount of blooms they produce, try giving them extra feedings of dried blood or cow manure.

This can be done by preparing a "dinner bag" for each lily plant. Fill a small cheesecloth bag with dried blood or cow manure. Then place it in a hole scooped out in the soil in which the lily is rooted. Do this before the boxes containing the lilies are placed in the pool for the season.

Friends of Russia Do Not Realize Difficulty of Getting Information Out of Moscow for United States Papers

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, May 15—Many are the observers of the passing scene who write in and say that the Russian viewpoint isn't being adequately presented in world affairs or that the American press is emphasizing friction between Russia and the United States. But these friends of Russia do not know how difficult it is for the newspapers of the United States to get information out of Moscow.

Admittedly the New York Times, for instance, is a great newspaper and a fair and objective publication. Yet the publisher of the Times, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, in a report in the current issue of "Editor and Publisher," makes this significant revelation:

"We've striven and are constantly striving to get more correspondents into Russia. Brooks Atkinson, present Moscow correspondent for the Times, took six months and a personal cable to Stalin to get in. Drew Middleton, who is about to replace him, had his application for a visa for his passport pending more than a year."

Why there should be so much difficulty, I don't know. We sought to have more than one man in Moscow. It was forbidden. We were recently told we were unfriendly and certain news stories were quoted as a sample of this. We were told there was a news bureau where stories could be checked for accuracy. The first story that was submitted was neither confirmed nor denied.

"I think that Russia, the great country that it is, is the most important news item in the world. I wish we could put half a dozen men there and give you all of the news."

"I still believe that freedom of access to the news is the sine qua non of peace because peace will come only with understanding, and somehow or other we've got to raise that iron curtain. I do not think it can be done by force. I do not think you can flood people on the other side with propaganda, but instead it can be done by the normal flow of news which is established by our sending correspondents there and their sending correspondents here and the normal wire service."

The New York Times isn't the only newspaper that has difficulty getting correspondents into Russia. The Chicago Sun, owned by Marshall Field and published in Chicago, has had several months delay in trying to get a correspondent into Moscow. Other newspapers report the same kind of difficulty.

What is the answer? Nobody knows. Washington tries to use its own government to get correspondents into Russia but without avail. The United States government has been urged to limit the number of Russian officials or agents who are coming into the United States until some understanding is reached with respect to the sending of Americans to Russia.

Plainly there is a wide gulf between the two governments. The usual explanation made is that the government is suspicious of one another or that Communists don't trust capitalism or vice versa. But the American people and the Russian people, no matter what their economic system may be, have a friendly feeling for one another. General Eisenhower, for example, has told correspondents here of the fraternal conversations he has with Russian officers and that there is no question in his mind about the desire of the Russian Army men to develop closer relations with the Americans.

Yet, in spite of these friendly relations, there are difficulties. There are cleavages which actually make some people here talk in terms of possible war with Russia some day. There would not be the slightest basis for such speculative gossip except for the constant clashes in conferences between the governments and the refusal of the Russians to let the American people get closer to them, which would be the case if restrictions on the entry of the press into Russia and censorship were removed.

One explanation of the Russian policy of secrecy sometimes advanced here is that the Russians really are afraid to let the outside world know the true conditions under which the Russian people live. For fear that Communism would be hurt in the eyes of the outside world. Whether or not this is true, the Russians could meet such criticism readily by allowing more correspondents into their country to report the great progress which has been made since the days of the czars' regime. Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

Berlin, May 15 (AP)—The most interesting city in the world today is Berlin. It is also one of the most comfortable to live in—if you have an American, Russian, British or French passport. If you are German, any farm in Bavaria would be better.

War and postwar living conditions have changed the flavor as well as the appearance of many famous cities. What you used to travel half the globe to see is no longer there.

New York, unless it has changed in the last few months, has become a sardine can. I have a friend, a former soldier, who turned down a fine-paying job in Manhattan. His family had settled in a town several states away during the war, and my friend was unable to find an apartment for them anywhere along the New York skyline. "So I'm hitting for the hills again," he said.

Going westward you hit San Francisco. "You should have seen it in the old days," the natives cry, and complain of lack of lemons and don't slow down at Honolulu. The navy probably charges you for foot space on the pier there now, and Waikiki Beach is a second Coney Island.

Tokyo? It's okay if you like to bunk down in a city that looks like a mouth full of broken teeth. But the gaps will finally get your nerves down. And the emperor's little people will worry you with their over-politeness.

We won't even consider Korea. The wife wouldn't like it and neither would the kids. How about Shanghai? Well, if you're a single man loose on the town, you can kick your heels awfully high. But the "welcome" sign doesn't look like the Chinese had been polishing it much lately, and the rickshaw boys are aching for an argument unless you pay them three times the going price for any trip.

What say to Hongkong? It's a ruined paradise, lovely and still romantic. But let's come back when they've rebuilt the old fine houses on the peak. Sydney? The best yet, and the best place to settle in. It's Australia's San Francisco, and the Aussies will take you to their hearts. But it's too far from the world's nerve centers.

Right now, though, if you sat down to your dinner there you'd be worrying whether a small brown Japanese carrying something bigger than a pogon might take a potshot through your window.

Singapore? Well, you sometimes dislike a city for no particular reason. And that's why Singapore is out. But there are plenty of reasons, too.

Calcutta? Who wants to spend his life in a Turkish bath? And a dirty one at that. Bombay? It glitters like a big circus. You could be happy in the Taj Mahal Hotel with a different servant for every dish. If you have a white skin, however, and are allergic to having a brick thrown at it—keep traveling, miss.

Atcheson Says May Day Message Attempt to Spread Red Ideas

Reopens Office

DR. LOUIS HUGEL

Dr. Louis Hugel of 265 Washington avenue, recently released from active duty as a major in the Medical Corps of the Army of the U. S., has resumed practice and reopened his office today. Major Hugel began his Army service at Fitzsimmons General Hospital, Denver, Colorado, in August, 1942. Later he was assigned to the General Hospital at Camp Edwards, Mass., and became chief of service in the department of diagnostic roentgenology. With the formation of the convalescent hospital and hospital center at Camp Edwards he was made consultant diagnostic roentgenologist to those institutions. Recently, in Chicago, Major Hugel was made a diplomate of the American Board of Radiology, having qualified in diagnostic roentgenology. Being an associate fellow of the National Gastro-Enterological Society, his interests also lie in the field of internal medicine as applied to the diagnosis and treatment of stomach and intestinal diseases.

Dr. Hugel is a member of the active medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital, where he heads the diagnostic and X-ray service.

Table Predicts Adult Height of Children

Berkeley, Calif., May 15 (AP)—A table which assertedly predicts with "amazing accuracy" the adult height of growing children has been developed by Dr. Nancy Bayley, research associate in the University of California's child welfare institute.

The forecasting method utilizes X-ray pictures of the joints in combination with sets of figures based on the examination of many growing children. It was devised not so much to predict the height of normal individuals as to aid surgeons in bone operations to equalize leg lengths, and to guide physicians in treating glands which may influence height.

Tokyo, May 15 (AP)—George Atcheson, Jr., General MacArthur's political adviser, today told the Allied council for Japan that a Japanese May Day message placed before it by Russia's member was "an attempt to spread Communistic propaganda."

The message, addressed separately to the four council members and to MacArthur, called the Japanese government "enemies of Democratic revolution" and asked the Allies for cooperation and assistance to achieve freedom. The message was not signed.

The Russian delegate, Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, brought the message to the council with a request to MacArthur for information on the statements made therein.

"According to translators, the document was not written in idiomatic Japanese, but rather gives the impression that the original had been drawn up in a foreign language and then translated into Japanese for presentation," said Atcheson, who is American member and chairman of the council as well as MacArthur's aide.

"I do not need to tell you the United States does not favor Communism in the United States—or Japan," Atcheson continued. "It is my opinion that the efforts of members of this council should be toward the democratization of Japan and it is not consistent with our clear duty in the respect for any member of the council to give support in public meetings of the council or otherwise to any one Japanese political party."

Atcheson's remarks were made during a verbal engagement between him and Derevyanko on the authenticity of "the facts" in the message and whether it represented the views of an estimated 500,000 Japanese who took part in a May Day demonstration here.

The discussion was concluded with a Russian request for information at the next meeting, May 29, on an investigation that Atcheson said was being conducted into allegations made in the document. Charges made in the statement included suppression of movement in protest of the rice ration, control of speech on Skikoku Island, perversion of Allied purge directives, and diversion by influential groups of food and other necessities allotted by the Allies to the Japanese government.

Woodstock Crafts Guild Announces Summer Program

The program for the summer courses of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen offers two new classes and demonstrations in photography by Brad Cramer, silk screening by Edith Roberts Cook, and lettering by Helen Buttrick. One of the new classes will be wood carving directed by Edward Thatcher who will also conduct his successful and popular classes in metal work. It is a mistaken idea that these pupils work only in tin cans, these are used only in the beginning with the new workers to teach them the basic application of the tools. The advanced students are already turning out some fine work in brass, copper, aluminum and silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steffanson are the instructors in leather work, the other new class, and are experienced teachers and craftsmen in this medium. Pottery, ceramic sculpture will again be under the direction of Mrs. Jessie A. Stagg; and Miss Belle Northrup will instruct in modern needlecraft, teaching all the basic stitches, the combination of colors and their application in dress designing.

Miss Beatrice Gazzolo will have her class in design as applied to all crafts. This is the one basic course that is essential before all the others. In addition she will conduct the class for children, allowing them free play in their imagination and creative skill in all the simple crafts. Last year the children produced some amazing work.

Redeployment

By the Associated Press

Nineteen transports, carrying nearly 10,000 service personnel, are scheduled to arrive today at New York, San Francisco, San Diego, and Seattle, Wash.

In addition, one vessel with 538 war brides and children is due at New York.

Ships and units arriving:

At New York

Miscellaneous troops on following vessels: Colby Victory from Southampton, (due originally yesterday), 566; Sea Fiddler from Le Havre, 987; Sea Devil from Le Havre, 1,177; Wheaton Victory from Le Havre, 710; Pittston Victory from Bremerhaven, 641; Frederick Victory from Le Havre, 560.

Thomas H. Barry from Southampton, 538 war brides and children.

At Seattle

John S. Bassett from Yokohama, two army.

At San Diego

ARMY GROCERY—Mrs. Gwen Bartholomew of San Diego, Calif., and her daughter, Carolyn, 7, buy canned food in a U. S. Army commissary in Berlin, after arriving with other dependents of U. S. occupation personnel.

Chances Good in China—Shanghai will be "going full blast" in a business way long before Tokyo or Manila recovers from war's aftermath, in the opinion of Dan Rieh, who has spent more than 18 years in the oil business in China. He is quoted as saying that many young Americans are eager to return home from the Far East might well spend time getting information which would be of great commercial value to them later, as the Orient is again a realm of great opportunity.

Blower Is Used To Fight Moths

Spray D.D.T. at High Velocity; Covers Tree
in Seconds

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 15 (AP)—A truck-mounted blower capable of spraying a mist of D.D.T. at a velocity of 150 to 200 miles an hour joined hedge-hopping airplanes today in the commonwealth's fight to wipe out the gypsy moth caterpillar, Pennsylvania's most destructive plant insect pest.

The spectacular new weapon, using less than a quart of D.D.T. a few seconds a single tree, previously would have required efforts of five men, a powder sprayer and 50 to 75 gallons of insecticide.

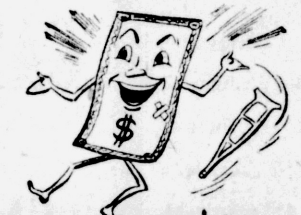

Efficiency of the blower, State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horne said, "will hasten the day when we will be free from this pest which already has cost more than $6,000,000 to fight in Pennsylvania."

Beta Sigma Phi Welcomes
Mrs. Garland, Social Director
The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Beta Sigma Phi Chapter, held at the home of Miss Florence Carlson Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, was held at which time the members welcomed Mrs. Joseph T. Garland, social director, who has been on an extended tour of the west. During last night's meeting preliminary arrangements were made for an early fall dance which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mrs. Garland and Mrs. James Mathers will be in charge of the affair. Invitations will be sent out to members of nearby Beta Sigma Phi chapters.

A report of the recent rummage sale was given and it was reported to have been a complete success. The next meeting of the local group will be held at the home of Mrs. Mathers, 174 Main street, Tuesday evening, May 28, at 8:30 o'clock. Each member is requested to bring a guest.

Following the business meeting Tuesday another interesting social and educational hour was held.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

RICE NO LONGER FOR WE-DING USE

In view of the very sobering published reports of the world's hunger, I must add the following letter to this column:

"Last week at a club luncheon a Chinese woman lawyer talked on conditions in China today and the poverty and destitution of her people. In commenting on living conditions, she called attention to the fact that rice, the main diet of the Chinese, is so scarce that the price is now 12,000 Chinese dollars and even at the fantastic wage level, beyond the purchasing ability of many of her people. The destitution of a large portion of the rest of the world is such common knowledge that I do not need to comment upon it now.

"Sunday morning when I went to church, rice lay scattered on the sidewalk, the result of a Saturday wedding.

"I would like you, Mrs. Post, to stress the desirability of using confetti instead of rice during the present dire emergency. Such a recommendation made by you would do much to make people more thoughtful of the world's desperate need."

To this, I indeed, do second this writer's opinion that paper confetti should be made obligatory, certainly for the present and perhaps, permanently.

Clothes of Ring Bearer
Dear Mrs. Post: What should the ring bearer wear at a simple wedding? The bride will wear white and a veil. She will have four bridesmaids and there will be a best man and a maid of honor. My son five years old will be the only child in the wedding. This is to be a hot-weather wedding.

Answer: He should wear a white suit, socks and strap slippers.

Writing Note on Scratch Paper
Dear Mrs. Post: Suppose one wants to write a note to a friend and finds one's pen out of order and no ink available. Which do you consider more important, the playing of one's thoughts in strict observance of correct precepts of etiquette?

Answer: I already have answered something like this lately that naturally our friends would rather hear from us than not hear from us at all. This does not mean that writing with pencil on any old scrap of paper is what we should do—if we can help it.

Correct forms for letter writing are found in Mrs. Post's booklet 502, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," obtainable for 10 cents and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Rhodes-Brooks
Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Brooks of Milby have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen F. Brooks to Roy Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Rhodes of Highland. The ceremony was performed at the Brook's home, May 5, by the Rev. Hugh McNelly of the Methodist Church. Mrs. McNelly played the wedding music. A reception for about 45 guests followed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white gown with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Edward Brooks, brother of the bride, was best man in their return from a wedding trip to Montreal. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will make their home temporarily with the bride's parents.

Rifton Auxiliary Welcomes
New Member, Plans Social
The first monthly meeting of the Rifton Ladies' Auxiliary was held at the fire hall Monday. There were 28 members present and Mrs. Anna Androvich was welcomed as a new member.

All members are invited to attend a social gathering Tuesday, May 28 at which the firemen will be guests of the ladies' auxiliary.

The next regular meeting will be May 27 at the fire hall.

Chimes Ringer Dies
Somerville, N. J., May 16 (AP)—Montell Toulmin, 70, well known chimes ringer who had been chimes ringer at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York city for 44 years, died yesterday at Somerset Hospital here. Toulmin, who lived at Cedar Grove Farms near Bound Brook, will be buried Friday after Presbyterian services.

Interesting Meeting Is Held By St. Paul's Club

The Couples Club of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fabiano, 2 Crown street. President Robert Dixon presided. Two new members, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pullman, were accepted into the club. The entertainment committee provided a two-fold program for the evening. Part one consisted of acting charades and part two was in the nature of a quiz contest. The next meeting will be held at the church and will consist of a covered dish supper to which friends are invited. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the host and hostess.

Californian May Get Court Post, Sources Declare

Washington, May 15 (AP)—President Truman, according to close associates, has about made up his mind today to go outside the Supreme Court for a new chief justice.

Although the President was represented as still short of a final decision, lawmakers talking to him recently said they got the impression he hopes to find a man with no ties to any of the present factions reputedly existing in the court.

In this connection, serious White House consideration reportedly is being given to the name of Phil S. Gibson, the comparatively youthful chief justice of the California State Supreme Court. Gibson is a Democrat.

While some California officials said they would be surprised if the chief justice appointment goes to their state, there seemed little doubt that Gibson's name is among those that Mr. Truman is going over.

Such an appointment would put eight Democrats and only one Republican on the court, a politically unbalanced lineup which the President previously was represented as wishing to avoid.

But any action of the President to fill the top court position with a Republican might arouse some antagonism among the more vigorously partisan members of his party, despite the fact that the late President Roosevelt followed that course in naming the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone.

Legislators who have been watching developments closely credited former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and former Justice Owen J. Roberts with giving the President the background which was said to have influenced him against elevating a member of the present court.

Education Board Re-elects Feeney

The resolution provided for four equal annual payments. Since then it has been found that one half of the purchase price now be paid out of funds on hand and the original resolution was amended to that extent.

The Board voted authority to sign a contract of purchase based on the new terms. This contract will be executed before June 30, when the school year ends.

A communication was received from the State Department, Building and Grounds Division, stating that July 1, 1946 was the last date for receipt of applications under the New York State Post War Planning Commission authority.

Permission was granted the Kingston high school band to play a concert at the Memorial Day exercises in the Municipal auditorium May 26. A half hour musical program from 7:30 to 8 o'clock precedes the exercises to be conducted under auspices of the Kingston Veterans' Association.

The Board voted to close schools on Friday, May 31, the day after Memorial Day, there being one extra day left in the calendar which will allow state aid money to be paid.

The Board adjourned to meet Wednesday, May 29.

Livestock Cut Essential To Save Starving People
Ithaca, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Reduction in livestock population is essential if the United States is to provide substantial quantities of food to foreign countries, the Cornell University Food Information Service said today.

The report advised that grain fed directly to humans would sustain 10 times as many lives as the same grain consumed in the form of meat and livestock products.

"The real solution to the food problem abroad," the report added.

President Signs Stop-Gap Law

porters the President regarded the stop-gap measure as a "bad bill." Ross added:

"The President doesn't like it at all, but feels, as some of his officials do, that it will be better to sign it than have confusion that will result from failure to continue a legislative support for armed force inductions."

While Langer still held the Senate floor, Mr. Truman signed an executive order that would have preserved Selective Service machinery but permitted no actual inductions. Final enactment of the bill, however, made this action unnecessary.

Several Senators complained that they were being forced by pressure of time to accept the House ban on drafting teen-agers. But it was Langer who carried the brunt of the fight.

Sharply critical of conscription in peacetime, the hoarse-voiced North Dakotan talked for more than four hours in an effort to block a vote. Democratic and Republican leaders appealed to him time and again to give up the floor.

Finally Langer sat down and in a jiffy Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), acting as presiding officer, gavelled the measure through. Then O'Mahoney and Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) of the House affixed their signatures along with that of Senate Secretary Biddle, who hurried the bill to the White House.

Mr. Truman signed it in his second floor study.

Langer said later he had plenty of prepared material "to talk way past midnight."

"But when you are one of 96 Senators and if three or four others are not willing to help you out, there is not much use," he added.

Another Battle Ahead
Langer and a number, other Senators promised that another war battle faces administration attempts to extend Selective Service beyond July 1.

"I'll fight that too as well as I know how," Langer said.

But Secretary of War Patterson issued a statement last night in which he noted that the Senate had passed the stop-gap bill "as modified by the House," and added:

"I hope that before July 1 an extension of Selective Service for one year will be adopted by the Congress in such form as to permit the War Department to carry out the tasks expected of it by the nation."

While the new law exempts 18 and 19 year olds from the draft, Selective Service said youths turning 18 still will be required to register.

there is already in place a driveway and a retaining wall, seven feet high, which extends for a distance of 100 feet.

This retaining wall, he said, offered a physical obstacle to the proposed extension, and he could not recommend the extension of the street except at its full width.

City Engineer Hallinan said that the extension had been requested by Mrs. Harriet I. See, but he did not believe she would care to lose the entrance to her built-in garage by extending the street.

"I would suggest that any grading be in the nature of maintenance work, to carry on until such time as an adequate street is warranted," said Mr. Hallinan.

The report was adopted by the board, and the city engineer was directed to inform Mrs. See as to the action taken, and the reasons therefor.

Bills were read and audited and the board adjourned.

Flour Output May Be Stalled for Six Weeks in Nation

food emergency arose. Davis said surveys indicate that about one out of three consumers is not attempting to comply with the "eat-less-bread" program.

Davis said he believes the government should divert the export wheat to the mills to keep them operating. He said, however, that all the flour milled from government wheat should be earmarked for relief overseas.

"It is a restoration of production in the war devastated countries and a good crop in 1946 in Canada, Argentina, Australia and South Africa."

Count Postmasters To Meet at Phoenixia
The Ulster County Postmasters' Association will hold its annual banquet Sunday, May 19 at 2 p. m., at the Phoenixia Hotel. Besides a social gathering there will be three important speakers. Postmaster Chester A. Miller of Oneonta, secretary of the State Association of the National Association of Postmasters, will speak on matters pertaining to the National Association that are important for every postmaster to know. The Hon. James E. Russell, regional director, second U. S. Civil Service Region is to talk on retirement benefits, and Post Office Inspector J. M. McGinn will talk on post office management and responsibilities. All postmasters and their assistants are being urged to attend.

Surveys Are Completed
Surveys have been completed, as authorized by the Board of Supervisors, of the proposed site at Flatbush. These surveys were made by the County Highway Department engineers and plans are ready to proceed with the work. Mr. Snyder called attention to the fact and state that the committee had taken advantage of all provisions of the Post-War Planning program to date. The survey is completed and maps are ready.

This work was predicated on this very thing. We had hoped that the Federal government would make funds available as it now has," he continued, and he indicated that further action by the county would be taken when the position of the state was made known as to its participation in the cost of building airports.

Mr. Snyder said that he expected the state to take action now, if interested in building of local airports, and he indicated that he believed the state was interested in development of airports.

Snyder Says Bill Does Not Affect Airport for Ulster

been anticipated by his committee and that the committee felt the state would go along under the plan and make some provision for financial contribution toward airports.

"We have taken advantage of all steps indicated to date to acquire an airport suitable for the needs of Ulster county and we will, in due course, take advantage of the provisions of this Federal law, provided it is workable so far as Ulster county is concerned," Mr. Snyder said when asked what steps would now be taken toward securing an airport locally.

"When Federal and State funds in sufficient amount are available we will build a suitable airport," Mr. Snyder said, and he stated that the signing of the bill by President Truman had brought the airport one step nearer.

Three Cases Are Reported Settled In Supreme Court
Three additional cases were settled in Supreme Court today on the call of the day calendar.

No. 81, Harry Feldman and another against Kingston City Transportation Company, a negligence action, was settled. Cashin and Ewig for plaintiff and N. LeVan Haver for defendant.

No. 198, Renee Chemical Service, Inc. against David S. Harvey, goods sold and delivered. Max Epstein for plaintiff and Lounsbury and Lonstein for defendant.

No. 205, Michael Buchholtz and another against Hyman Schreier, an action to recover on a check. Louis Trachtenberg for plaintiff and Michael Schneiderman for defendant.

Two negligence actions growing out of an automobile accident in Sullivan county last summer were announced ready for trial. They are: Louis Trachtenberg and Charles Miller; and Sidney Dole, an infant by guardian, against Louis Trachtenberg, Lounsbury and Lonstein for plaintiff and Thomas F. Harrigan and James A. Doherty for defendants. Prior to taking up the trial of the actions and selection of a jury a recess was taken by the court.

Army Flies Iron Lung To War Bride on Ship
New York, May 15 (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, 26-year-old English war bride of T. J. George Anderson of New Albany, Ind., arrived today free of a respirator which had been rushed to her ship by plane and Coast Guard cutter.

An Army medical officer aboard the Army Transport Thomas N. Barry bearing Mrs. Anderson here said she had been suffering from a "temporary impairment to the respiratory system" resulting from an allergy to novocaine.

After 24 hours in the respirator aboard ship, physicians felt her condition had improved sufficiently for her removal. She was taken today to Fort Hamilton Station Hospital, Brooklyn, for rest.

Physicians had requested a respirator while the ship was four days out of New York, off Newfoundland. A 900-pound "iron lung" was flown by Army transport plane from Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, to Newfoundland, where it was transferred to a Coast Guard cutter and relayed to the transport.

Shoo-Fly Pie Recipe Given by Albany Woman
Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—"Shoo-Fly Pie," a pungent musical concoction when mixed with "apple pan dowdy," actually can be cooked on a front burner, an Albany woman says.

Mrs. Alfred Delaney reports she found this "shoo-fly pie" recipe in her "Pennsylvania Dutch Cook Book."

Half-cup molasses, one well-beaten egg yolk and 1/2 teaspoon soda dissolved in 3/4 cup boiling water (for the filling); 3/4 cup flour, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons, shortening, 1/2 teaspoon each nutmeg, ginger and cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/4 teaspoon salt (for the crumb). Line a pie pan with pastry dough and add the mixture with alternate layers of liquid and crumbs. Bake in a 450-degree oven until the crust edges brown, then bake for 20 minutes at 350 degrees.

Now, Mrs. Delaney would like to know what "apple pan dowdy" is. It's not listed in her book.

Snyder Says Bill Does Not Affect Airport for Ulster

been anticipated by his committee and that the committee felt the state would go along under the plan and make some provision for financial contribution toward airports.

"We have taken advantage of all steps indicated to date to acquire an airport suitable for the needs of Ulster county and we will, in due course, take advantage of the provisions of this Federal law, provided it is workable so far as Ulster county is concerned," Mr. Snyder said when asked what steps would now be taken toward securing an airport locally.

"When Federal and State funds in sufficient amount are available we will build a suitable airport," Mr. Snyder said, and he stated that the signing of the bill by President Truman had brought the airport one step nearer.

Three Cases Are Reported Settled In Supreme Court
Three additional cases were settled in Supreme Court today on the call of the day calendar.

No. 81, Harry Feldman and another against Kingston City Transportation Company, a negligence action, was settled. Cashin and Ewig for plaintiff and N. LeVan Haver for defendant.

No. 198, Renee Chemical Service, Inc. against David S. Harvey, goods sold and delivered. Max Epstein for plaintiff and Lounsbury and Lonstein for defendant.

No. 205, Michael Buchholtz and another against Hyman Schreier, an action to recover on a check. Louis Trachtenberg for plaintiff and Michael Schneiderman for defendant.

Two negligence actions growing out of an automobile accident in Sullivan county last summer were announced ready for trial. They are: Louis Trachtenberg and Charles Miller; and Sidney Dole, an infant by guardian, against Louis Trachtenberg, Lounsbury and Lonstein for plaintiff and Thomas F. Harrigan and James A. Doherty for defendants. Prior to taking up the trial of the actions and selection of a jury a recess was taken by the court.

Army Flies Iron Lung To War Bride on Ship
New York, May 15 (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, 26-year-old English war bride of T. J. George Anderson of New Albany, Ind., arrived today free of a respirator which had been rushed to her ship by plane and Coast Guard cutter.

An Army medical officer aboard the Army Transport Thomas N. Barry bearing Mrs. Anderson here said she had been suffering from a "temporary impairment to the respiratory system" resulting from an allergy to novocaine.

After 24 hours in the respirator aboard ship, physicians felt her condition had improved sufficiently for her removal. She was taken today to Fort Hamilton Station Hospital, Brooklyn, for rest.

Physicians had requested a respirator while the ship was four days out of New York, off Newfoundland. A 900-pound "iron lung" was flown by Army transport plane from Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, to Newfoundland, where it was transferred to a Coast Guard cutter and relayed to the transport.

Shoo-Fly Pie Recipe Given by Albany Woman
Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—"Shoo-Fly Pie," a pungent musical concoction when mixed with "apple pan dowdy," actually can be cooked on a front burner, an Albany woman says.

Mrs. Alfred Delaney reports she found this "shoo-fly pie" recipe in her "Pennsylvania Dutch Cook Book."

Half-cup molasses, one well-beaten egg yolk and 1/2 teaspoon soda dissolved in 3/4 cup boiling water (for the filling); 3/4 cup flour, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons, shortening, 1/2 teaspoon each nutmeg, ginger and cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/4 teaspoon salt (for the crumb). Line a pie pan with pastry dough and add the mixture with alternate layers of liquid and crumbs. Bake in a 450-degree oven until the crust edges brown, then bake for 20 minutes at 350 degrees.

Now, Mrs. Delaney would like to know what "apple pan dowdy" is. It's not listed in her book.

Prospecting Paper Says
London, May 15 (AP)—The Moscow radio quoted a Tehran newspaper today as reporting that representatives of the American-owned Sinclair Oil Corp. were prospecting for oil in the vicinity of Iranshahr in southeastern Iran.

Holumzer-Fabiny Wedding Takes Place

The Community Church on the Circle in Mount Vernon was the setting for the marriage of Miss Elsa Fabiny, daughter of Albert G. Fabiny of Mount Vernon to Erwin Holumzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Holumzer of Zena, Sunday at 4 p. m. The Rev. Carl Weiss, pastor officiated. The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli and snapdragons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of satin and net, a fingertip veil with coronet of pearls. She carried a sweetheart bouquet of white roses. A niece of the bride, Miss Beatrice Knapp of Mount Vernon was maid of honor. She wore a pink gown and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Another niece, three-year-old Dianne Fabiny, was flower girl. She wore a blue gown and carried sweet peas.

John Holumzer was best man for his brother, Albert Fabiny and Montecena DeWitt were ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp.

Mrs. Holumzer attended schools in Mount Vernon and was employed as assistant treasurer of the Ward Motor Co. of Mount Vernon. The bridegroom attended Kingston High School and has recently been discharged from the army after serving almost three years stationed in Hawaii and with the occupation forces in Japan. He is now employed in Elwyn Brothers store, Woodstock. The couple will make their home in "Holly's Haven," Pilot Hill, Zena.

Wallkill Pupils Will Give Concert Friday

About 150 Wallkill music students will perform at the Spring Concert Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Central School auditorium under the direction of Miss Agnes Hemerway. The concert is free and the public is invited.

Groups participating will be the Girls' Sextet, the W.C.S. Girls' Glee Club (45 voices), the intermediate chorals (40 voices), the song flute band of Platekill led by Miss Elaine Kniffen and the W.C.S. Band.

Soloists in the concert will be Winona Wynkoop, bell solo; Charles Thompson, piano; Helen Morehouse, soprano; Shelby Harcourt, French horn; Philip Rappleyea, clarinet; Richard Henzel, piano; Hope Gibson, violin; Consuelo Lafuente, soprano; Marjorie Conklin and Norman Eckert, trumpet duet.

Choir Concert Organist and Soloists

Zelma Teague Johnson, director and teacher of the Johnson Organ Studios of Carnegie Hall, New York, will present a program of concert organ music on the new Hammond organ during the A Cappella Choir Concert Friday and Saturday nights, 8:15 o'clock, at Kingston High School. She will play six numbers.

Miss Johnson, a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, O., is known in New York music circles for her church, radio and entertainment work. She recently completed an engagement playing for the National Advertising Convention at the Hotel Pennsylvania in New York.

The concert will include the regular choral numbers under the direction of Leonard Stine but will feature the new organ which has been presented to the school by the choir.

Scherer Is Losing Pitcher; Havens Tames Local Squad

Six Costly Errors, Nine Walks Aid in Downfall; Saugerties High School Here Next Tuesday

Kingston High School suffered its third straight baseball setback Tuesday afternoon at the municipal stadium when Coach Sam Kalloch's Poughkeepsie High team took a 9 to 3 victory. It was victory number four in five starts for the Bridge City nine which has lost only to Wappingers Falls.

Play Newburgh Next

The Maroon and White team will remain idle until Monday night when they will travel to Newburgh to meet the Goldbacks under the lights in the first arc-light game played by the local school in history. Saugerties will invade the municipal stadium next Tuesday afternoon.

Dick Scherer started on the hill for Coach Pete Hatch's team Tuesday and held the visitors to a total of five hits in the first inning. Scherer's downfall was caused, however, by his complete lack of control and the Maroon defense which committed six costly errors. The Maroon flinger issued nine walks. Len Lessick relieved Scherer in the ninth and he retired the side without a score.

Coach Kalloch nominated Joe Havens for mound duties and he yielded a total of nine hits and as many walks. However, three of the passes were intentional. Havens' only bad frame was in the fourth when Kingston scored all of its runs. "Red" Gorsline, George Glaser, Mike Rienzo and Bob Roe paced the locals in the hit column with two safeties apiece. Tom Larsen, rookie catcher, collected the only timely hit, a double which drove in the three runs.

Five Runs in First

Scherer got off to a bad start giving up five runs in the first inning. Three walks, a fielder's choice, an error by "Tex" Brown and a long triple by Bill Paroli netted a quintet of tallies for the Kallochen. An error by the Maroon twirler himself put two men on with none out, but Scherer bore down and fanned Williams and Becker and forced Parazzo to ground out to second. Altogether, 10 men batted in the first inning for the visitors.

Although the locals managed to put men on base in every frame they failed to tag Havens for any runs until the big fourth when a trio of chukkers plodded across pay dirt. A single, fielder's choice, and a pass loaded the sacks which set the stage for Larsen's resounding double into right center field, knocking in all of Kingston's runs for the afternoon. Another pass, and a single by Gorsline loaded the paths but Brown ended the uprising by grounding out.

Poughkeepsie, meanwhile, was adding to its total. A walk, sacrifice and Suki Thompson's long single added a marker in the second, and another singleton, bunt and an error by Tex Brown showed across another in the fourth. Thompson drove in the Blue's eighth tally in the sixth with a single after MacClelland had walked and went to second on Havens' sacrifice. The final Bridge City marker came across in the eighth when a walk, a sacrifice and a hit by Stockrocki, who had replaced Paroli in center, sent Havens scampering across the plate.

Crafty Cardinal Hurler Holds 10 Straight Wins Over Dodgers Since Early '43

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chubby Max Lanier, with 10 straight victories over Brooklyn to his credit, may be the decisive factor in the National League race if it narrows down to the Dodgers and Cardinals.

It's much too early to eliminate anybody from the flag chase, except the Phillies, but the early season results point to a duel between St. Louis and Brooklyn.

The Red Birds, off to a stuttering start, closed the gap to one game yesterday by downing the Brooks, 7-5, in 11 innings.

Eddie Dyer is new as skipper of the Cardinals but he knew the answer when he got to Brooklyn for the first time. He started Lanier, the Dodgers' hex.

Not since June 2, 1943, has the Flatbush flock been able to cut down the crafty lefthander from Denton, N. C. Lanier beat the Brooks four times after that 3-2 setback in '43 and five in a row in 1944. He didn't pitch against them last year before he went into the army but now he's back at his old job.

Lefty Max wasn't quite as effective as usual yesterday, to tell the truth. He gave up nine hits over the 11 frames. In the 10-game victory span he has allowed the flock only 37 safe blows in an even 100 innings.

First Home Defeat

Leo Durocher's gang gave Lanier a good battle, coming back from a 5-0 deficit on some lusty digging by Billy Herman and Sixie Walker to send the contest into overtime. With the bases loaded and two out in the 11th,

Marty Marion punched a two-run single to centerfield that doomed

the home club. Reliever Vic Lombardi was charged with the Brooks' first Ebbs Field loss of the season after nine successes.

Jim Wallace, another member of the Brotherhood of Lefthanders, sparked in the other National League fray, an arc light tilt between the Chicago Cubs and Phillies at Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants were rained out as was a Philadelphia at Cleveland day contest in the American.

Dave (Boo) Ferriss was the big gun in the junior league when he outpitched Joe Haynes in a tight duel to blank Chicago, 3-0. Rudy

York's towering homer in the fourth and his double in the seventh boosted Ferriss along the way to his fourth straight triumph.

The Red Sox maintained their 5½-game lead over the New York Yankees who dropped out of the clouds and beat St. Louis, 6-2. All the Yank runs came from homers by

Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey and

Joe Gordon who resumed his place in the lineup after a week's inactivity.

Davis Cup Squad Named to Launch Drive for Trophy

Frank Parker Tops List; Quartet Will Open Against Philippine Team in June

New York, May 15 (P)—A Davis Cup team composed of Frank Parker, Ted Schroeder, Billy Talbert and Gardner Mulloy will carry the hopes of the United States into the drive to recapture the international tennis trophy which was lost to Australia for the duration back in 1939.

Headed by non-playing Captain Walter L. Pate, this quartet was selected to meet a squad from the Philippine Islands on the Triple-A Club courts at St. Louis, June 14-16, in the first round of play in the North American zone.

A notable absentee in this first-round lineup is Jack Kramer, member of the 1939 squad, who plays in the All-England Championships at Wimbledon, June 26-July 7, and won't be around for Davis Cup competition until after the opening match.

His departure leaves Parker as the only player with Davis Cup experience on the team for the Philippine tie. The California ex-sergeant, No. 1 in the present national rankings and holder of the national singles crown, was a member of the team which wrested the trophy from Great Britain in 1937 and the one which lost it to Australia in 1939.

Parker-Schroeder Doubles

Parker, defeated by Kramer in straight sets in the southern California tournament last week-end, and Schroeder, former national champion in both singles and doubles, probably will handle the singles assignments at St. Louis, with Talbert and Mulloy teaming in doubles, although Pate is still undecided about that.

Pate said he would meet the quartet in St. Louis five days before the start of the match.

While the United States and Philippine clash at St. Louis, Canada and Mexico will be meeting at Montreal in the other first round match of North American play and the winners will face each other early in July for the right to play New Zealand, lone entrant from the Pacific zone.

In the European zone, meanwhile, play has reached the second round, which must be completed by May 28.

Maroon Scores 5-1 Victory in Tennis

Locals Down Ellenville Team on Tuesday

Kingston High School's tennis squad registered its third victory in four starts Tuesday afternoon by scoring a 5 to 1 decision over Ellenville on the latter's court. Kingston's only loss of the season was inflicted by the Cadets of N. Y. M. A.

Dick DeKay again paced the locals as he has been doing all season. DeKay won an easy victory in his singles match trouncing Bob Marchant of the lower Ulster school 6-1, 6-1. DeKay and Johnny Boukous won a doubles match from Marchant and Don Bilyou 6-2, 6-0. The Maroon doubles team is unbeaten so far this year.

Jack Matthews was the only Maroon loser of the day after doing so well in practice all week. Bilyou defeated him 6-1, 6-1. Dick Reynolds, who had been dropped to the number three slot on the local team came through in fine style over Joe Hart who played number one for Ellenville in the previous meeting of these two clubs winning 6-1, 6-3. Bob Vining won the other singles match for the Maroon, defeating Isaac Ziperman 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

The final match of the afternoon, a doubles match between Hart and Ken Terbush of Ellenville and Reynolds and Matthews of Kingston resulted in a win for the latter 6-2, 6-3.

G.I.'s Can Take Home Ostriches From Japan

Yokohama, May 15 (AP)—The U. S. Eighth Army today granted

G.I.'s permission to take ostriches home as pets. Nobody knows who asked. There aren't any ostriches here.

The army circular also said donkeys can be taken home on government ships "if free from exposure to epizootic lymphangitis." (no use looking; the dictionary just says it's a disease caused by "cryptococcus farcinus.") Also approved: Dogs, cats, monkeys, swine, some parrots, and "domestic wild ruminants." (A ruminant seems to be anything with hoofs and even number of toes that chews its cud.) That's as far as the army will go. Still barred are flying foxes, live insects, birds of paradise, and mongeese. (Or is it mongoses?) The Bastille of Paris was completed in 1383.

Measles Cases on Wane

Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Upstate New York has passed the crest of the measles epidemic, the State Health Department reported today. Dr. H. S. Ingraham, director of the communicable diseases division, said the number had been falling steadily for several weeks. There were 3,066 new cases reported last week, compared with 3,276 the previous week. A peak of about 4,000 was reached five weeks ago. Monroe led the list last week with 536 reported cases. Measles have caused 20 deaths upstate this year, Dr. Ingraham said.

Town of Marletown

A.L. to Elect Officers

High Falls, May 14—Veterans of the town of Marletown and vicinity are cordially invited to attend the next meeting of the newly organized town of Marletown Post of the American Legion, at the High Falls Fire Hall, Thursday, May 16 at 8:30 p. m. At this meeting officers will be elected and a temporary constitution and by-laws will be adopted. It is considered to be of great importance that officers be elected who will guide the post wisely in its formative period.

Defense Attorney (to prosecuting witness)—So you recognize this handkerchief as the one that was stolen?
Prosecuting Witness—I do.
Defense Attorney—And yet there may be more like it. For instance, this one I have in my pocket is exactly like it.

Prosecuting Witness—Very likely. Two were stolen.

Van Kleecks High In State Tourney With 2811 Total

Johnny Ferraro Blasts 1802 All-Events at Rochester; Hanley Posts 677 Score

Kingston's horde of big time bowlers invaded the alleys at Rochester over the week-end and although they failed to ring up any new record scores, many came away with marks which will undoubtedly place in the money when the annual New York State Men's Bowling Tournament winds up next week-end.

The Van Kleeck trundlers, winners of the Hudson Valley Bowling League, registered a sizzling 2811 score to place fairly high in the Class A Five Man results. The top team score to date is 3007, having been rolled by the Chic Grip Atomic Ball team of New York City. The fifth place team has a 2937, just 126 pins better than Van Kleecks.

Fred Rice, George Robinson and Charlie Gruenewald paced the team to its 2811 score on triples of 603, 583 and 573. The team hit 909, 957 and 945.

Johns Dairy, behind Johnny Ferraro's 602 and Harold Broskie's 591, came through with a 2792 score in the Class A Five Man event, while Adirondack Tavern hit 2676. Lew Hymes had a 623 for the Tavern keepers.

Hanley Cracks 677

Other outstanding results in the tournament were turned in by Bob Hanley who got himself a neat 677 score in the doubles classification. Bob rolled 222, 257 and 198. His teammate, S. Czizman of Poughkeepsie, contributed a 526 to give them a double score of 1203.

Cliff Quick and Lew Hymes registered a double count of 1117 while George Fleming and Harold Broskie posted 1168. Ad Jones and Johnny Ferraro slammed a 1173 double score with the former hitting 579 and the "Ace" 594. Charlie Gruenewald and Mary Kellenberger combined to total a 1003 double count.

In another doubles match at Rochester Charlie Gruenewald and Gil Sampson smashed an 1100 on scores of 588 and 512. Sampson also came through with a 580 singles to give himself a good chance of placing in the money.

Johnny Ferraro grossed himself a comfortable 1802 all-events with his 594, 606 and 602. Top all-events score to date has been rolled by Andy Varipapa of Hempstead who has a 1917. Fifth man in the standings has 1867 in his credit.

Harold Broskie, Ad Jones and Johnny Ferraro stand a good chance to hit the money bracket in the singles with their respective scores of 594, 600 and 606. It is figured that all bowlers with 575 singles or better will be in 1100 doubles or better will put off.

Bowling in the American Bowling Congress tournament at Buffalo over the week-end, Jones Dairy cracked a 2526 five-man total. George "Curly" Fleming divided honors with the team by splitting the pins for a 600 score in the A.B.C. singles.

New Orleans restaurants are freezing for national distribution such dishes as shrimp remoulade, oyster stew, gumbo, bouillabaisse and Crepes Suzettes.

FREEMAN SUMMER LEAGUE
A two-way tie exists for first place in The Freeman Summer Bowling League following the regular matches Tuesday night. Team 1 grabbed a pair of victories from Team 2 while Team 3 made a clean sweep of their match with Team 4 at the Central Recreation alley. Both Team 1 and 3 have a current record of six wins against three setbacks.

Charles Tiano's 209 single and 572 three-times paced Team 1 to its important win over Team 2. Roland Post was high for the losers with a 525 triple.

Jack Hartman showed the way for Team 3 in its trio of triumphs over Team 4 last night. Hartman rocked out a 502 series on scores of 155, 188 and 159. Tom LaPol had a 200 game for Team 4 in a losing cause.

The standings:

Team 1..... 6 3 .667
Team 2..... 3 6 .333
Team 3..... 6 3 .667
Team 4..... 3 6 .333

THE RESULTS:

Stadium Grounds Still Under Water; May Halt Game

The scheduled City League baseball game at the municipal stadium tonight between Perry's Service Station and Morgan's Restaurant will undoubtedly be postponed, Sid Lutzin of the recreation department announced this morning.

"Chuck" Davis, veteran groundskeeper at the uptown ball park, notified the office this morning that the infield is still covered with water from Tuesday night's downfall and it was expected that even with the clearing weather this afternoon the field would be in no shape for tonight's game.

New clay has been added to the base paths at the stadium which is one of the main reasons why the rain will not seep through, Davis reported today.

Thursday night the New York Centrals are slated to meet the Jayrich team at 6:15 o'clock.

Capitals to Hold Practice Friday

Important Drill Slated for Loughran Park

The Old Capital Motors baseball team will hold an important practice Friday night at Loughran Park in preparation for its game Sunday afternoon at Margaretville. All members are requested to be present.

Following is the team's Sunday schedule:

May 19—At Margaretville American Legion.

May 26—At Napanoch Prison.

June 2—At Wallkill Prison.

More Deals Planned

Philadelphia, May 15 (AP)—The buying spree of the Philadelphia Phillies is not over, says owner-President Robert M. Carpenter, "as long as we're still in the cellar." Carpenter told a reporter he is convinced the Blue Jays need only good pitching to climb out of last place in the National League.

Franco Defends Regime in Speech Before Parliament

Madrid, May 15 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco, defending his regime before a cheering Cortes (Parliament), said today, "we solved our political problems with our blood and our effort."

(The United Nations Security Council in New York, through a special subcommittee, is now collecting evidence on a charge by Poland that Franco Spain is a threat to world peace. Poland is seeking to have all the United Nations sever diplomatic relations with the Franco government.)

"Great political problems are still being debated in many countries which took part in the great conflict and whose regimes are incapable of solving the urgent difficulties accumulated," Franco added.

"Spain solved and arranged her difficulties seven years ago and... is developing through successive stages with rigorous exactitude."

Franco made a veiled reference to the monarchy question when he said his government, like a building, was erected from the foundation up and that "we will finish this building when we are not pushed from the outside."

Among those who attended the Cortes session were U. S. Charge d'Affaires Philip W. Bonsal and British Ambassador Sir Victor Mallet. The speech was broadcast throughout Spain.

Spencer Says Milk Is Ridiculously Cheap

Utica, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Dr. Leland Spencer of the State College of Agriculture asserts that milk at current prices is "ridiculously cheap" and that a 3 1/2 cent per quart increase in the retail price would be neither "unreasonable nor unduly burdensome" to New York city consumers.

Spencer told a gathering of government and farm representatives at a hearing on proposed changes in the metropolitan New York milk marketing order yesterday the price of fluid milk should increase two cents a quart, every fall and winter to stimulate production.

He advocated raising or removing O.P.A. ceilings on dairy products to assure adequate supplies. The hearing is expected to continue through Saturday.

There are more than 20,000 motion picture theatres in the United States.

Honored Upon Retirement

Bruck Is Honored By Central Hudson Workers at Dinner

Last night John F. Bruck of Kingston was honored at a dinner which was given by his associates at Airport Inn on the occasion of his retirement from the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation. More than 50 men were present from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Catskill offices. Mr. Bruck, who was a member of the local service force, retired on May 1 after more than 28 years with Central Hudson and its predecessor, the Kingston Gas and Electric Co.

From 1917, when he entered the local utility company, and gas was used almost exclusively for residence lighting and cooking, Mr. Bruck, specializing in installation and servicing, has been closely connected with the continued development for modern living, represented by the present vast array of automatic gas appliances and equipment for homes, business establishments and industrial plants.

The master of ceremonies was J. Ellis Briggs of High Falls, assistant retail sales manager for Central Hudson. He called on Harris E. Dexter of Poughkeepsie, president in charge of commercial relations, and Thomas A. Corby of that city, manager of gas operations, who reviewed Mr. Bruck's outstanding service and recalled various incidents of his company activities. Edwin T. Strong of Kingston, Upper Hudson district manager, made the presentation of a smoking stand and pipes from Mr. Bruck's associates.

Others called upon for remarks were Henry Eltinge, local district service supervisor, Edward Huben, Walter May, Harry Goldworthy, Thomas Johnson, Myron Thompson, Thomas Morrissey, all of Kingston, and also Everett Schutt and R. D. Denhardt of the Newburgh district. The program included a variety of mementoes presented to Mr. Bruck in humorous vein. The committee in charge of arrangements: Henry Eltinge, chairman; Thomas Bashall, John Henney, Ward Werry, LeRoy Constant and Clarence Raichle of the local company office.

Session Postponed
Cairo, May 15 (AP)—The Arab League's extraordinary session to discuss the Anglo-American Palestine committee's report, scheduled for Saturday in Damascus, has been postponed. Arab League officials said today a new date would be announced later. Reasons for the postponement were not disclosed.

Senators Call Move Attempt to Slow Curb Legislation

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Senate advocates of immediate new labor curbs lashed out today at the 16-member proposal for a nation-wide inquiry into strikes as an oblique slow down move.

Senator Baer (R-Minn.) told a reporter he will oppose the effort led by Chairman Murray (D-Mont.) of the Labor Committee to postpone pending union-control legislation to consider the proposal by Senators Kilgore (D-Va.) and Morse (R-Ore.) for an investigation of the underlying causes of industrial disputes.

Backed in this move by 12 other Democrats, two Republicans and a Progressive, Murray called the committee into session today to act on it.

But Baer, saying the committee had discussed the suggestion several times before without reaching agreement on it, declared: "This is just a move to keep the Senate from voting on some Senate proposals that are before it. If there is going to be any investigation of labor disputes, it should be done by a special committee. The chairman and majorities of both the House and Senate Labor Committees have already demonstrated they are so biased that any investigation they made would be vestigation."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he agrees with Baer that the inquiry proposal was brought up to stall Senate action.

Murray told reporters he would be "no party to a filibuster." His comment came after Senator Mead (D-N.Y.) and some others said they thought action on labor legislation ought to be held up until after the coal strike is settled and tempers cool.

Lions May Sponsor Concerts at Stadium

The regular Tuesday meeting of the local Lions Club was given over to music in one form or another. A committee was formed to consider the sponsorship of a series of concerts at the municipal stadium for the benefit of Kingston music lovers.

The Community Concert Association was discussed as to its aims and purposes, and it was decided to have a representative of that group present at the next meeting to inform the Lions as to the future plans of the Community Concert group.

The local club's entry in the state contest for the best Lion piano player, Roger Baer, played several selections for the group. This contest will be held at the state convention of the Lions Clubs to be held at Saranac Lake in June.

Colonial Canteen Ends Officially

Lack of Cooperation Is Reason Given; Other Things Interfere

At a meeting of the student members Tuesday in the high school, the Colonial Canteen Inc., was officially dissolved.

According to Watson Goodrich, student president, the action was taken because of the failure on the part of the young people to show active cooperation in the work and activities connected with the canteen.

Although there was some opposition voiced at the meeting, the main factor of lack of student participation in the actual details of conducting a canteen, clearly decided the vote. The wide range of other interests in the high school program such as band and choir concerts, sports, and Y. M. C. A. dances were suggested as some possible reasons for the lack of student interest in the canteen.

The adult committee had advised the young people several weeks ago that under present conditions a canteen was quite impossible. Attempting to assure the adults that young people were interested in such a project, a group proceeded to sponsor several money raising projects: food sale, rummage sale and dance.

About $50 was obtained from the sales but the dance Saturday night cost the canteen about $35. Only thirteen young people attended the affair which was held at the Myron J. Michael School and Mr. Goodrich reported that not even the young people whom he had appointed on the committees supported the dance. The executive committee will decide what to do with the balance tonight.

Mrs. Frederick Stang, president of the adult committee, arranged for the meeting yesterday. Another meeting with the students of the Myron J. Michael School will be held tomorrow. However, it is the general opinion that the younger group will follow along with the decision of the high school group.

Atcheson Says May Day Message Attempt to Spread Red Ideas

Reopens Office

DR. LOUIS HUGEL

Dr. Louis Hugel of 265 Washington avenue, recently released from active duty as a major in the Medical Corps of the Army of the U. S., has resumed practice and reopened his office today. Major Hugel began his Army service at Fitzsimons General Hospital, Denver, Colorado, in August, 1942. Later he was assigned to the General Hospital at Camp Edwards, Mass., and became chief of service in the department of diagnostic roentgenology. With the formation of the convalescent hospital and hospital center at Camp Edwards he was made consultant diagnostic roentgenologist to those institutions. Recently, in Chicago, Major Hugel was made a diplomate of the American Board of Radiology, having qualified in diagnostic roentgenology. Being an associate fellow of the National Gastro-Enterological Society, his interests also lie in the field of internal medicine as applied to the diagnosis and treatment of stomach and intestinal diseases.

Dr. Hugel is a member of the active medical staff of the Benedictine Hospital, where he heads the diagnostic and X-ray service.

Table Predicts Adult Height of Children

Berkeley, Calif., May 15 (AP)—A table which assertedly predicts with "amazing accuracy" the adult height of growing children has been developed by Dr. Nancy Bayley, research associate in the University of California's child welfare institute.

The forecasting method utilizes X-ray pictures of the joints in combination with sets of figures based on the examination of many growing children. It was devised not so much to predict the height of normal individuals as to aid surgeons in bone operations to correct leg lengths and to enable physicians in treating glands which may influence height.

Tokyo, May 15 (AP)—George Atcheson, Jr., General MacArthur's political adviser, today told the Allied council for Japan that a Japanese May Day message placed before it by Russia's member was "an attempt to spread Communistic propaganda."

The message, addressed separately to the four council members and to MacArthur, called the Japanese government "enemies of Democratic revolution" and asked the Allies for cooperation and assistance to achieve freedom. The message was not signed.

The Russian delegate, Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko, brought the message to the council with a request to MacArthur for information on the statements made therein.

"According to translators, the document was not written in idiomatic Japanese, but rather gives the impression that the original had been drawn up in a foreign language and then translated into Japanese for presentation," said Atcheson, who is American member and chairman of the council as well as MacArthur's aide.

"I do not need to tell you the United States does not favor Communism in the United States—or Japan," Atcheson continued.

"It is my opinion that the efforts of members of this council should be toward the democratization of Japan and it is not consistent with our clear duty in the respect for any member of the council to give support in public meetings of the council or otherwise to any one Japanese political party."

Atcheson's remarks were made during a verbal engagement between him and Derevyanko on the authenticity of "the facts" in the message and whether it represented the views of an estimated 500,000 Japanese who took part in a May Day demonstration here.

The discussion was concluded with a Russian request for information at the next meeting, May 29, on an investigation that Atcheson said was being conducted into allegations made in the document. Charges made in the statement included suppression of movement in protest of the rice ration, control of speech on Shikoku Island, perversion of Allied purge directives, and dispersion by influential groups of food and other necessities allotted by the Allies to the Japanese government.

Woodstock Crafts Guild Announces Summer Program

The program for the summer courses of the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen offers two new classes and demonstrations in silk screening by Edith Roberts Cook, and lettering by Helen Buttrick. One of the new classes will be wood carving directed by Edward Thatcher who will also conduct his successful and popular classes in metal work. It is a mistaken idea that these pupils work only in tin cans, these are used only in the beginning with the new workers to teach them the basic application of the tools. The advanced students are already turning out some fine work in brass, copper, aluminum and silver.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steffanson are the instructors in leather work, the other new class, and are experienced teachers and craftsmen in this medium.

Pottery, ceramic sculpture will again be under the direction of Mrs. Jessie A. Stagg; and Miss Belle Northrup will instruct in modern needlecraft, teaching all the basic stitches, the combination of colors and their application in dress designing.

Miss Beatrice Gazzolo will have her class in design as applied to all crafts. This is the one basic course that is essential before all the others. In addition she will conduct the class for children, allowing them free play in their imagination and creative skill in all the simple crafts. Last year the children produced some amazing work.

Redeployment

By the Associated Press

Nineteen transports, carrying nearly 10,000 service personnel, are scheduled to arrive today at New York, San Francisco, San Diego, and Seattle, Wash.

In addition, one vessel with 538 war brides and children is due at New York.

Ships and units arriving:

At New York
Miscellaneous troops on following vessels: Colby Victory from Southampton, (due originally yesterday), 566; Sea Fiddler from Le Havre, 987; Sea Devil from Le Havre, 1,177; Wheaton Victory from Bremerhaven, 641; Frederick Victory from Le Havre, 560.

Thomas H. Barry from Southampton, 538 war brides and children.

At Seattle
John S. Bassett from Yokohama, two army.

At San Diego

Miscellaneous on following: LST's 919, 1004, 729, 866 and 876, 568 Navy and Marines; LSD Comstock (due originally May 13), delayed indefinitely at Pearl Harbor.

At San Francisco

Miscellaneous on following: Samuel Chase from Saipan, 1,514 Navy; 335 Marines; Rutland from Pearl Harbor, 1,638 Navy, 15 Marines; Fred C. Ainsworth from Australia, 414 Navy; Virgo, 215 Navy; Thuban, 1,511 Navy; three marines; LST 697 from Pearl Harbor, 40 Navy; Laurencia, 12 Navy.

ARMY GROCERY—Mrs. Gwen Bartholomew of San Diego, Calif., and her daughter, Carolyn, 7, buy canned food in a U. S. Army commissary in Berlin, after arriving with other dependents of U. S. occupation personnel.

Chances Good in China—Shanghai will be "going full cans eager to return home from blast" in a business way long before the Far East might well spend fore Tokyo or Manila recovers time getting information which from war's aftermath, in the opinion would be of great commercial value to them later, as the Orient more than 18 years in the oil business is again a realm of great opportunity in China. He is quoted as saying that many young Americans are eager to return home from blast.

Blower Is Used To Fight Moths

Spray D.D.T. at High Velocity; Covers Tree in Seconds

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., May 15 (AP)—A truck-mounted blower capable of spraying a mist of D.D.T. at a velocity of 150 to 200 miles an hour joined hedge-hopping airplanes today in the commonwealth's fight to wipe out the gypsy moth caterpillar, Pennsylvania's most destructive plant insect pest.

The spectacular new weapon, using less than a quart of D.D.T. oil solution, completely sprayed a few seconds a single tree that previously would have required the efforts of five men, a powder sprayer and 50 to 75 gallons of insecticide.

Efficiency of the blower, State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horn said, "will hasten the day when we will be free from this pest which already has cost more than $6,000,000 to fight in Pennsylvania."

Vegetable ivory from the "ivory nuts" of the tagua palm tree, an export of Ecuador, is one of the most widely used materials for button manufacture.

Beta Sigma Phi Welcomes
Mrs. Garland, Social Director
The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Beta Sigma Phi Chapter, of the New York Gamma Chapter, at the home of Miss Florence Carlson in Lake Katrine Tuesday evening at which time the members welcomed back Mrs. Joseph T. Garland, social director, who has been on an extended tour of the west. During last night's meeting preliminary arrangements were made for an early fall dance which will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Mrs. Garland and Mrs. James Mathers will be in charge of the affair. Invitations will be sent out to members of nearby Beta Sigma Phi chapters.

A report of the recent rummage sale was given and it was reported that a complete success had been achieved. The next meeting of the local chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. Mathers, 174 Main street, Tuesday evening, May 28, at 8:30 o'clock. Each member is requested to bring a guest.

Following the business meeting Tuesday, another interesting social and educational hour was held.

RICE NO LONGER FOR WEDDING USE

In view of the very sobering published reports of the world's hunger, I must add the following letter to this column:

"Last week at a club luncheon a Chinese woman lawyer talked on conditions in China today and the poverty and destitution of her people. In commenting on living conditions, she called attention to the fact that rice, the main diet of the Chinese, is so scarce that the price is now 12,000 Chinese dollars and even at the fantastic wage level, beyond the purchasing ability of many of her people. The destitution of a large portion of the rest of the world is such common knowledge that I do not need to comment upon it now.

"Sunday morning when I went to church, rice lay scattered on the sidewalk, the grass and in the gutter—the result of a Saturday wedding.

"I would like you, Mrs. Post, to stress the desirability of using confetti instead of rice during the present world emergency. Such a recommendation made by you would do much to make people more thoughtful of the world's desperate need."

To this I indeed, do second this writer's opinion that paper confetti should be made obligatory, certainly for the present and perhaps, permanently.

Clothes of Ring Bearer
Dear Mrs. Post: What should the ring bearer wear at a simple wedding? The bride will wear white and a veil. She will have four bridesmaids and there will be a best man and a maid of honor. My son five years old will be the only child in the wedding. This is to be a hot-weather wedding.

Answer: He should wear a white suit, socks and strap slippers.

Writing Note on Scratch Paper
Dear Mrs. Post: Suppose one wants to write a note to a friend and finds one's pen out of order and no ink available. Which do you consider more important, the relaying of one's thoughts or strict observance of correct precepts of etiquette?

Answer: I already have answered something like this lately that naturally our friends would rather hear from us than not hear from us. This does not mean that writing with pencil and on any old scrap of paper is what we should do—if we can help it.

Correct forms for letter writing are found in Mrs. Post's booklet 502, "The Etiquette of Letter Writing," obtainable for 10 cents in coin and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope sent in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. 99, Kingston, N. Y.

Rhodes Brooks
Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Brooks of Milton have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen F. Brooks to Roy Rhodes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonah Rhodes of Highland. The ceremony was performed at the Brooks home, May 5, by the Rev. Hugh McNelly of the Methodist Church. Mrs. McNelly played the wedding music. A reception for about 45 guests followed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white gown with a train and a crown of orange blossoms. She carried white gardenias. Her maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Rhodes, sister of the bridegroom, wore a pink gown with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. Edward Brooks, brother of the bride, was best man.

On their return from a wedding trip to Montreal, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes will make their home temporarily with the bride's parents.

Rifton Auxiliary Welcomes
New Member. Plans Social

The first monthly meeting of the Rifton Ladies' Auxiliary was held at the fire hall Monday. There were 28 members present and Mrs. Anna Androvich was welcomed as a new member.

All members are invited to attend a social gathering Tuesday, May 28 at which the firemen will be guests of the ladies' auxiliary.

The next regular meeting will be May 27 at the fire hall.

Chimes Ringer Dies
Somerville, N. J., May 16 (AP)—Montell Toulmin, 70, well known chimes ringer who had been chimes ringer at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York city for 44 years, died yesterday at Somerset Hospital here. Toulmin, who lived at Cedar Grove Farms near Bound Brook, will be buried Friday after Presbyterian services.

Interesting Meeting Is Held by St. Paul's Club

The Couples Club of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church met Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Fabiano, 2 Crown street. President Robert Dixon presided. Two new members, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pullman, were accepted into the club. The entertainment committee provided a two-fold program for the evening. Part one consisted of acting charades and part two was in the nature of a quiz contest. The next meeting will be held at the church and will consist of a covered dish supper to which friends are invited. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the host and hostess.

Californian May Get Court Post, Sources Declare

Washington, May 15 (AP)—President Truman, according to close associates, has about made up his mind today to go outside the Supreme Court for a new chief justice.

Although the President was represented as still short of a final decision, lawmakers talking to him recently said they got the impression he hopes to find a man with ties to any of the present factions reputedly existing in the court.

In this connection, serious White House consideration reportedly is being given to the name of Phil S. Gibson, the comparatively youthful chief justice of the California State Supreme Court. Gibson is a Democrat.

While some California office holders said they would be surprised if the chief justice appointment goes to their state, there seemed little doubt that Gibson's name is among those that Mr. Truman is going over.

Such an appointment would put eight Democrats and only one Republican on the court, a politically unbalanced lineup which the President previously has represented as wishing to avoid.

But any action of the President to fill the top court position with a Republican might arouse some antagonism among the more vigorously partisan members of his party, despite the fact that the late President Roosevelt followed that course in naming the late Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone.

Legislators who have been watching developments closely credited former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and former Justice Owen J. Roberts with giving the President the background which was said to have influenced him against elevating a member of the present court.

the resolution provided for four equal annual payments. Since then it has been found that one half of the purchase may now be paid out of funds on hand and the original resolution was amended to that extent.

The Board voted authority to sign a contract of purchase based on the new terms. This contract will be executed before June 30, when the school year ends.

A communication was received from the State Department, Building and Grounds Division, stating that July 1, 1946 was the last date for receipt of applications under the New York State Post War Planning Commission authority.

Permission was granted the Kingston high school band to play a concert at the Memorial Day exercises in the Municipal auditorium May 26. A half hour musical program from 7:30 to 8 o'clock precede the exercises to be conducted under auspices of the Kingston Veterans' Association.

The Board voted to close schools on Friday, May 31, the day after Memorial Day, there being one extra day left in the calendar which will allow state aid money to be paid.

The Board adjourned to meet Wednesday, May 29.

Livestock Cut Essential To Save Starving People

Ithaca, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Reduction in livestock population is essential if the United States is to provide substantial quantities of food to foreign countries, the Cornell University Food Information Service said today.

The report advised that grain fed directly to humans would sustain 10 times as many lives as the same grain consumed in the form of meat and livestock products.

"The real solution to the food problem abroad," the report added.

President Signs Stop-Gap Law

porters the President regarded the stop-gap measure as a "bad bill," Ross added.

"The President doesn't like it at all, but he feels as some of his officials do, that it will be better to sign it than have confusion that will result from failure to continue a legislative support for armed force inductions."

While Langer still held the Senate floor, Mr. Truman signed an executive order that would have preserved Selective Service machinery but permitted no actual inductions. Final enactment of the bill, however, made this action unnecessary.

Several Senators complained that they were being forced by pressure of time to accept the House ban on drafting teenagers. But it was Langer who carried the brunt of the fight.

Sharply critical of conscription in peacetime, the hoarse-voiced North Dakotan talked for more than four hours in an effort to block a vote. Democratic and Republican leaders appealed to him time and again to give up the floor.

Finally Langer sat down and in a jiffy Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), acting as presiding officer, gavelled the measure through. Then O'Mahoney and Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) of the House affixed their signatures along with that of Senate Secretary Biffle, who hurried the bill to the White House.

There Mr. Truman signed it in his second floor study.

Langer said later he had plenty of prepared material "to talk way past midnight."

"But when you are one of 96 Senators and if three or four others are not willing to help you out, there is not much use," he added.

Another Battle Ahead
Langer and a number, other Senators promised that another word battle faces administration attempts to extend Selective Service beyond July 1.

"I'll fight that too as well as I know," Langer said.

But Secretary War Patterson issued a statement last night in which he noted that the Senate had passed the stop-gap bill "as modified by the House," and added:

"I hope that before July 1 an extension of Selective Service for one year will be adopted by the Congress in such form as to permit the War Department to carry out the tasks expected of it by the nation."

While the new law exempts 18 and 19 year olds from the draft, Selective Service said youths turning 18 still will be required to register.

there is already in place a driveway and a retaining wall, seven feet high, which extends for a distance of 100 feet.

This retaining wall, he said, offered a physical obstacle to the proposed extension, and he could not recommend the extension of the street except at its full width.

City Engineer Hallinan said that the extension had been requested by Mrs. Harriet I. See, but he did not believe she would care to lose the entrance to her built-in garage by extending the street.

"I would suggest that any grading be in the nature of maintenance work, to carry on until such time as an adequate street is warranted," said Mr. Hallinan.

The report was adopted by the board, and the city engineer was directed to inform Mrs. See as to the action taken, and the reasons therefor.

Bills were read and audited and the board adjourned.

food emergency arose. Davis said surveys indicate that about one out of three consumers is not attempting to comply with the "eat-less-bread" program.

Davis said he believes the government should divert the export wheat to the mills to keep them operating. He said, however, that all the flour milled from government wheat should be earmarked for relief overseas.

Reservations for the breakfast must be made by Thursday evening. Members of the society and their friends who desire to attend, but have not purchased tickets can procure them from the breakfast committee.

Three Cases Are Reported Settled In Supreme Court

Three additional cases were settled in Supreme Court today on the call of the day calendar.

No. 81, Harry Feldman and another against Kingston City Transportation Company, a negligence action, was settled. Cashin and Ewig for plaintiff and N. LeVan Haver for defendant.

No. 198, Renee Chemical Service, Inc., against David S. Harvey, goods sold and delivered. Max Epstein for plaintiff and Lounsbury and Lonsstein for defendant.

No. 205, Michael Buchholtz and another against Hyman Schreier, an action to recover on a check. Lonsstein and Lounsbury for plaintiff and Michael Schneiderman for defendant.

Two negligence actions growing out of an automobile accident in Sullivan county last summer were announced ready for trial. They are Betty D. Kreitzer against Louis Trachtenberg and Charles Miller; and Sidney Dole, an infant by guardian, against Louis Trachtenberg, Lounsbury and Lonsstein for plaintiff and Thomas F. Harrison and James A. Doherty for defendants. Prior to taking up the trial of the actions and selection of a jury a recess was taken by the court.

Army Flies Iron Lung To War Bride on Ship

New York, May 15 (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Anderson, 26-year-old English war bride of T/4 George Anderson of New Albany, Ind., arrived today free of a respirator which had been rushed to her ship by plane and Coast Guard cutter.

An Army medical officer aboard the Army Transport Thomas N. Barry bearing Mrs. Anderson here said she had been suffering from

"a temporary impairment to the respiratory system" resulting from an allergy to novocaine.

After 24 hours in the respirator aboard ship, physicians felt her condition had improved sufficiently for her removal. She was taken today to Fort Hamilton Station Hospital, Brooklyn, for rest.

Physicians had requested a respirator while the ship was four days out of New York, off Newfoundland. A 900-pound "iron lung" was flown by Army transport plane from Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn, to Newfoundland, where it was transferred to a Coast Guard cutter and relayed to the transport.

Snyder Says Bill Does Not Affect Airport for Ulster

been anticipated by his committee and that the committee felt the state would go along under the plan and make some provision for financial contribution toward airports.

"We have taken advantage of all steps indicated to date to acquire an airport suitable for the needs of Ulster county and will, in due course, take advantage of the provisions of this Federal law, provided it is workable so far as Ulster county is concerned."

Mr. Snyder said when asked what steps would now be taken toward securing an airport locally.

"When Federal and State funds in sufficient amount are available we will build a suitable airport," Mr. Snyder said, and he stated that the signing of the bill by President Truman had brought the airport one step nearer.

Surveys Are Completed
Surveys have been completed, as authorized by the Board of Supervisors, of the proposed site at Flatbush. These surveys were made by the County Highway Department engineers and plans are ready to proceed with the work.

Mr. Snyder called attention to this fact and state that the committee had taken advantage of all provisions of the Post-War Planning program to date. The survey is completed and maps are ready.

"This work was predicated on this very thing, we had hoped that the Federal government would make funds available as it now has," he continued, and he indicated that further action by the county would be taken when the position of the state was made known as to its participation in the cost of building airports.

Mr. Snyder said that he expected the state to take action now, if interested in building of local airports, and he indicated that he believed the state was interested in development of airports.

"Of course I do not know what a future Board of Supervisors action may be, but I will say that as chairman of the committee which has under its jurisdiction the building of a suitable airport for Ulster county, we are still committed to the building of such an airport," he concluded.

Fight Fans Await Appearance of Cleveland Team Thursday Night; Poughkeepsie Hands Kingston Third Straight Setback, 9 to 3

Scherer Is Losing Pitcher; Havens Tames Local Squad

Six Costly Errors, Nine Walks Aid in Downfall; Saugerties High School Here Next Tuesday

Kingston High School suffered its third straight baseball setback Tuesday afternoon at the municipal stadium when Coach Sam Kalloch's Poughkeepsie High team took a 9 to 3 victory. It was victory number four in five starts for the Bridge City nine which has lost only to Wappingers Falls.

Play Newburgh Next
The Maroon and White team will remain idle until Monday night when they will travel to Newburgh to meet the Goldbacks under the lights in the first arc-light game played by the local school in history. Saugerties will invade the municipal stadium next Tuesday afternoon.

Dick Scherer started on the hill for Coach Pete Hatch's team Tuesday and held the visitors to a total of five hits in his eight inning stint. Scherer's downfall was caused, however, by his complete lack of control and the Maroon defense which committed six costly errors. The Maroon finger issued nine walks. Len Lessick relieved Scherer in the ninth and he retired the side without a score.

Coach Kalloch nominated Joe Havens for mound duties and he yielded a total of nine hits and as many walks. However, three of the passes were intentional. Havens' only bad frame was in the fourth when Kingston scored all of its runs. "Red" Gorsline, George Glaser, Mike Rienzo and Bob Roe paced the locals in the hit column with two safeties apiece. Tom Larsen, rookie catcher, collected the only timely hit, a double which drove in the three runs.

Five Runs in First
Scherer got off to a bad start giving up five runs in the first inning. Three walks, a fielder's choice, an error by "Tex" Brown and a long triple by Bill Paroli netted a quintet of tallies for the Kallachmen. An error by the Maroon twirler himself put two men on with none out, but the stage for Larsen's recouping double into right center field, knocking in all of Kingston's runs for the afternoon. Another pass, and a single by Gorsline loaded the paths but Brown ended the uprising by grounding out.

Poughkeepsie, meanwhile, was adding to its total. A walk, sacrifice and Suki Thompson's long single added a marker in the second, and another singleton, bunt and an error by Tex Brown shoved across another in the fourth. Thompson drove in the Blue's eighth tally in the sixth with a single after MacClelland had walked and went to second on Havens' sacrifice. The final Bridge City marker came across in the eighth when a walk, a sacrifice and a hit by Stockrocki, who had replaced Paroli in center, sent Havens scampering across the plate.

Crafty Cardinal Hurler Holds 10 Straight Wins Over Dodgers Since Early '43

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Chubby Max Lanier, with 10 straight victories over Brooklyn to his credit, may be the decisive factor in the National League race if it narrows down to the Dodgers and Cardinals.

It's much too early to eliminate anybody from the flag chase, except the Phillies, but the early season results point to a duel between St. Louis and Brooklyn. The Red Birds, off to a stuttering start, closed the gap to one game yesterday by downing the Brooks, 7-5, in 11 innings.

Eddie Dyer is new as skipper of the Cardinals but he knew the answer when he got to Brooklyn for the first time. He started Lanier, the Dodgers' hex. Not since June 2, 1943, has the Flatbush flock been able to cut down the crafty left-hander from Denton, N. C. Lanier beat the Brooks four times after that 3-2 setback in '43 and five in a row in 1944. He didn't pitch against them last year before he went into the army but now he's back at his old tricks.

Lefty Max wasn't quite as effective as usual yesterday, to tell the truth. He gave up nine hits over the 11 frames. In the 10-game victory span he has allowed the flock only 73 safe blows in an even 100 innings.

First Home Defeat
Leo Durocher's gang gave Lanier a good battle, coming back from a 5-0 deficit on some just slugging by Billy Herman and Dixie Walker to send the contest into overtime. With the bases loaded and two out in the 11th, Marty Marion punched a two-run single to centerfield that doomed the home club. Reliever Vic Lombardi was charged with the Brooks' first ninth success.

Jim Wallace, another member of the Brotherhood of Left-handers, sparked in the other National League fray, an arc light hit in Boston, when he hurled the Braves to a 5-1 edge over Pittsburgh. The Bucs scored first but were unable to touch Wallace for only four hits while the home club banged starter Kenny Gables for nine safeties.

Scheduled night games between the Chicago Cubs and Phillies and Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants were rained out as was a Philadelphia at Cleveland day contest in the American.

Dave (Boo) Ferriss was the big gun in the junior loop when he outpitched Joe Haynes in a tight duel to blank Chicago, 3-0. Rudy York's towering homer in the fourth and his double in the seventh boosted Ferriss along the way to his fourth straight triumph.

The Red Sox maintained their 5½-game lead over the New York Yankees who dropped out of the clouds and beat St. Louis, 6-2. All the Yank runs came from homers by Joe DiMaggio, Bill Dickey and Joe Gordon who resumed his place in the lineup after a week's inactivity. Floyd Bevins did the hitting, an efficient nine-hitter, to down Neis Porter.

Nats Hit Tigers
Detroit's eight-game win string was shattered by a 20-hit Washington uprising that produced a 15-1 decision for Roger Wolf. The veteran knuckleballer, who spent the last week of the 1945 season waiting in Detroit for a playoff game that never was played, got his revenge with interest.

Braves Purchase White
Boston, May 15 (AP)—The ever-increasing number of former Cardinals now in the flannels of the revived Braves was increased to five today with the acquisition of left-handed pitcher Ernie White.

Davis Cup Squad Named to Launch Drive for Trophy

Frank Parker Tops List; Quartet Will Open Against Philippine Team in June

New York, May 15 (AP)—A Davis Cup team composed of Frank Parker, Ted Schroeder, Billy Talbert and Gardner Mulloy will carry the hopes of the United States into the drive to recapture the international tennis trophy which was lost to Australia for the duration back in 1939.

Headed by non-playing Captain Walter L. Pate, this quartet was selected to meet a squad from the Philippine Islands on the Triple-A Club courts at St. Louis, June 14-16, in the first round of play in the North American zone.

A notable absentee in this first-round lineup is Jack Kramer, member of the 1939 squad, who played in the All-England Championships at Wimbledon, June 26-July 7, and won't be around for Davis Cup competition until after the opening match.

His departure leaves Parker as the only player with Davis Cup experience on the team for the Philippine tie. The California ex-sergeant, No. 1 in the present national rankings and holder of the national singles crown, was a member of the team which wrested the trophy from Great Britain in 1937 and the one which lost it to Australia in 1939.

Parker-Schroeder Doubles

Parker, defeated by Kramer in straight sets in the southern California tournament last week-end, and Schroeder, former national champion in both singles and doubles, probably will handle the singles assignments at St. Louis, with Talbert and Mulloy teaming in doubles, although Pate is still undecided about that.

Pate said he would meet the quartet in St. Louis five days before the start of the match. While the United States and Philippines clash at St. Louis, Canada and Mexico will be meeting at Montreal in the other first round match of North American play and the winners will face each other early in July for the right to play New Zealand, lone entrant from the Pacific zone.

In the European zone, meanwhile, play has reached the second round, which must be completed by May 28.

Maroon Scores 5-1 Victory in Tennis

Locals Down Ellenville Team on Tuesday

Kingston High School's tennis squad registered its third victory in four starts Tuesday afternoon by scoring a 5 to 1 decision over Ellenville on the latter's court. Kingston's only loss of the season was inflicted by the Cadets of N. Y. M. A.

Dick DeKay again paced the locals as he has been doing all season. DeKay won an easy victory in his singles match trouncing Bob Marchant of the lower Ulster school 6-1, 6-1. DeKay and Johnny Boolekus won a doubles match from Marchant and Don Bilyou 6-2, 6-0. The Maroon doubles team is unbeaten so far this year.

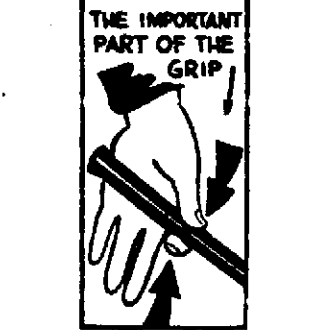

Jack Matthews was the only Maroon loser of the day after doing so well in practice all week. Bilyou defeated him 6-1, 6-1. Dick Reynolds, who had been dropped to the number three slot on the local team came through in fine style over Joe Hart who played number one for Ellenville in the previous meeting of these two clubs winning 6-1, 6-3. Bob Vining won the other singles match for the Maroon, defeating Isaac Ziperman 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

The final match of the afternoon, a doubles match between Hart and Ken Terbush of Ellenville and Reynolds and Matthews of Kingston resulted in a win for the latter 6-2, 6-3.

Kingston has a match slated for today on the Kingston courts with Poughkeepsie serving up the opposition. Newburgh invades the local courts Friday giving the local netmen a busy schedule for this week.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

3. If there is lacking in your swing a slight pause at the top of the backswing during which the hand and wrist muscles require a moment or two to draw up, spring like, your return or forward swing will start too quickly. This leads to mis-timing, which means that your hands will swing through ahead of your clubhead and cause slice. This fault also causes the rolling, bouncing ball, which one gets sick of looking at. It is necessary to "swing" away from the top of the back swing, the same as you swing up to that point. When you return the club without the momentary pause, you jump away from the top, in some degree. The more you jump, the more disastrous the shot. From this top position, after the pause-gathering pause, move your hands directly toward the ground, not toward the ball. Let your club swing. Look at the ball and avoid haste to get it hit and away. This is what letting the club do it means.

Fair Street Nips Comforters, 9-8

Presbyterians Score 7-0 Win Over Dutchmen

A single by Ad Schultz in the last of the seventh enabled the Fair street club to score a 9 to 8 victory over the Comforters Tuesday night in a regular Federation League contest.

Comforters, with one win in league play, opened the game with a single run in the first and tallied five runs in the fourth. Fair street had two big innings, five markers coming across in the initial stanza and a cluster of three in the fourth.

Harold Clayton hurled for the winners while the Rev. M. Pontier served them up for the Comforters. Each club has now a 1-1 record for the season.

Presbyterians Win

Paced by Harold "Chicken" Smith's shutout hurling, the First Presbyterians defeated the First Dutch last night 7 to 0. It was the second straight blanking registered by the Elmendorf street softies.

Lots of men have said just that—until Pal came along. Now, they say "They're all the same—except Pal!"

Ordinary safety razor blades are ground like a pocket knife. Pal Blades are different—they're Leather Stripped and Hollow Ground just like a barber's razor.

Result: Pal Blades are flexible in your razor—follow facial contours effortlessly. Your shave is cool, quick, no "bearing down." And delicate edges last longer, too. That's why millions call it the Pal.

Capacity Throng Expected to Jam Broadway Arena

Plenty of Action Promised by B'nai B'rith; Taylor-Hunt Bout Is Rated Tops in Section

Thursday is fight night in Kingston, and the municipal auditorium is expected to be jammed to capacity for the appearance of the Cleveland Golden Gloves team imported by B'nai B'rith Lodge to give fistic fans of this area a real treat.

Four dynamic leather pushers who have been drawing capacity houses on a tour of the midwest are on the bill tomorrow night: Billy Hunt and Billy Stevens, scintillating welterweights, and Jimmy Bowman and Joe Zoldack, lightning-like bantams.

These boys are matched with the best available talent in the Adirondack Division of the A. A. U. Once they start swinging, there should be plenty of action, says Bill Singer, director of bouts for B'nai B'rith.

Jimmy Taylor, New York Golden Glover, replacing Jimmy Marlo, adds to the attractiveness of the card, and his scrap with Billy Hunt is expected to be one of the best ever presented at the auditorium.

Bobby Bowers, who has two knockouts to his credit, in three starts, probably will add many fans to his large following when he squares off against Eddie Morton of Albany in one of the prelims.

The advance sale of seats presages a record assemblage of boxing followers tomorrow night. Starting time of the show is 9 o'clock.

The complete card:

Five Rounders
Jimmy Taylor, 150, New York, vs. Billy Hunt, 142, Cleveland. Both boys are Golden Gloves. Hunt having won the welter title this year.

Matt Baranski, 145, Albany, Kansas City G. G. champ in 1944, vs. Billy Stevens, Cleveland G. G. title winner and South Pacific army champion.

Charles (Babyface) Decker, 118, Schenectady, formerly of Kingston, G. G. open class winner in New York 1946, vs. Jimmy Bowman, 115, Cleveland sensation.

Three Rounders
Carmine Taglia, 115, English

Centrals to Drill
Manager "Pucker" Davis has called for a special practice of his New York Central team at Loughran Park tonight at 6:30 o'clock, weather permitting. Players on the City League club will be measured for uniforms on the field. The Centrals are scheduled to meet the Jayrich club in their first league tilt tomorrow night at municipal stadium.

Measles Cases on Wane

Albany, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Upstate New York has passed the crest of the measles epidemic, the State Health Department reportedtoday. Dr. H. S. Ingraham, director of the communicable diseases division, said the number had been falling steadily for several weeks.
There were 3,066 new cases reported last week, compared with 3,276 the previous week. A peak of about 4,000 was reached five weeks ago. Monroe led the list last week with 536 reported cases. Measles have caused 20 deaths upstate this year, Dr. Ingraham said.

Franco Defends Regime in Speech Before Parliament

Madrid, May 15 (AP)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco, defending his regime before a cheering Cortes (Parliament), said today, "we solved our political problems with our blood and our effort."

(The United Nations Security Council in New York, through a special subcommittee, is now collecting evidence on a charge by Poland that Franco Spain is a threat to world peace. Poland is seeking to have the United Nations sever diplomatic relations with the Franco government.)

"Great political problems are still being debated in many countries which took part in the great conflict and whose regimes are incapable of solving the urgent difficulties accumulated," Franco added.

"Spain solved and arranged her difficulties seven years ago and is developing through successive stages with rigorous exactitude."

Franco made a veiled reference to the monarchy question when he said his government, like a building, was erected from the foundation up and that "we will finish this building when we are not pushed from the outside."

Among those who attended the Cortes session were U. S. Charge d'Affaires Philip W. Bonsal and British Ambassador Sir Victor Mallet. The speech was broadcast throughout Spain.

Spencer Says Milk Is Ridiculously Cheap

Utica, N. Y., May 15 (AP)—Dr. Leland Spencer of the State College of Agriculture asserts that milk at current prices is "ridiculously cheap" and that a 3½ cent per quart increase in the retail price would be neither "unreasonable nor unduly burdensome" to New York city consumers.

Spencer told a gathering of government and farm representatives at a hearing on proposed changes in the metropolitan New York milk marketing order yesterday the price of fluid milk should increase two cents a quart every fall and winter to stimulate production.

He advocated raising or removing O.P.A. ceilings on dairy products to assure adequate supplies.

The hearing is expected to continue through Saturday.

Honored Upon Retirement

Bruck Is Honored By Central Hudson Workers at Dinner

Last night John F. Bruck of Kingston was honored at a dinner which was given by his associates at Airport Inn on the occasion of his retirement from the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation.

More than 50 men were present from Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Catskill offices. Mr. Bruck, who was a member of the local service force, retired on May 1 after more than 28 years with Central Hudson and its predecessor, the Kingston Gas and Electric Co.

From 1917, when he entered the local utility company, and gas was used almost exclusively for residence lighting and cooking, Mr. Bruck, specializing in installation and servicing, has been closely connected with the continued development for modern living, represented by the present vast array of automatic gas appliances and equipment for homes, business establishments and industrial plants.

The master of ceremonies was J. Ellis Briggs of High Falls, assistant retail sales manager for Central Hudson. He called on Harris E. Dexter of Poughkeepsie, vice president in charge of commercial relations, and Thomas A. Corby of that city, manager of gas operations, who reviewed Mr. Bruck's outstanding service and recalled various incidents of his company activities. Edwin T. Strong of Kingston, Upper Hudson district manager, made the presentation of a smoking stand and pipes from Mr. Bruck's associates.

Others called upon for remarks were Henry Eltinge, local district service supervisor, Edward Huben, Walter May, Harry Goldsworthy, Harry Johnson, Myron Thompson, Thomas Morrissey, all of Kingston, and also Everett Schutt and R. D. Denhardt of the Newburgh district. The program included a variety of mementoes presented to Mr. Bruck in humorous vein.

The committee in charge of arrangements: Henry Eltinge, chairman; Thomas Bashall, John Heaney, Ward Yerry, LeRoy Constant and Clarence Raichle of the local company office.

Session Postponed
Cairo, May 15 (AP)—The Arab League's extraordinary session to discuss the Anglo-American Palestine committee's report, scheduled for Saturday in Damascus, has been postponed. Arab League officials said today a new date would be announced later. Reasons for the postponement were not disclosed.

Senators Call Move Attempt to Slow Curb Legislation

Washington, May 15 (AP)—Senate advocates of immediate new labor curbs lashed out today at the 16-member proposal for a nationwide inquiry into strikes as an oblique slow down move.

Senator Baugh (R-Minn.) told a reporter he will oppose the effort led by Chairman Murray (D-Mont.) of the Labor Committee to postpone pending union-control legislation to consider the proposal by Senators Kilgore (D-W. Va.) and Morse (R-Ore.) for an investigation of the underlying causes of industrial disputes.

Backed in this move by 12 other Democrats, two Republicans and a Progressive, Murray called the committee into session today to act on it.

But Baugh, saying the committee had discussed the suggestion several times before without reaching agreement on it, declared:

"This is just a move to keep the Senate from voting on some studied proposals that are before it. If there is going to be any investigation of labor disputes, it should be done by a special committee. The chairman and majority of both the House and Senate Labor Committees have already demonstrated they are so biased that any investigation they made would be worthless."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he agrees with Baugh that the inquiry proposal was brought up to stall Senate action.

Murray told reporters he would be "no party to a filibuster." His comment came after Senator Mead (D-N. Y.) and some others said they thought action on labor legislation ought to be held up until after the coal strike is settled and tempers cool.

Lions May Sponsor Concerts at Stadium

The regular Tuesday meeting of the local Lions Club was given over to music in one form or another. A committee was formed to consider the sponsorship of a series of concerts at the municipal stadium for the benefit of Kingston music lovers.

The Community Concert Association was discussed as to its aims and purposes, and it was decided to have a representative of that group present at the next meeting to inform the Lions as to the future plans of the Community Concert group.

The local club's entry in the state contest for the best Lion piano player, Roger Baer, played several selections for the group.

This contest will be held at the state convention of the Lions Clubs to be held at Saranac Lake in June.

Colonial Canteen Ends Officially

Lack of Cooperation Is Reason Given; Other Things Interfere

At a meeting of the student members Tuesday in the high school, the Colonial Canteen Inc., was officially dissolved.

According to Watson Goodrich, student president, the action was taken because of the failure on the part of the young people to show active cooperation in the work and activities connected with the canteen.

Although there was some opposition voiced at the meeting, the main factor of lack of student participation in the actual details of conducting a canteen, clearly decided the vote. The wide range of other interests in the high school program such as band and choir, concerts, sports, and Y. M. C. A. dances, were suggested as some possible reasons for the lack of student interest in the canteen.

The adult committee had advised the young people several weeks ago that under present conditions a canteen was quite impossible. Attempting to assure the adults that young people were interested in such a project, a group proceeded to sponsor several money raising projects: food sale, rummage sale and dance.

About $50 was obtained from the sales but the dance Saturday night cost the canteen about $35. Only thirteen young people attended the affair which was held at the Myron J. Michael School and Mr. Goodrich reported that not even the young people whom he had appointed on the committee supported the dance.

The executive committee will decide what to do with the balance tonight.

Mrs. Frederick Stang, president of the adult committee, arranged for the meeting yesterday. Another meeting with the students of the Myron J. Michael School will be held tomorrow. However, it is the general opinion that the younger group will follow along with the decision of the high school group.
